Cherubs Awaiting

Alex Orborn and Andy Kriz, members of the South Church cherub choir, enjoy a few moments while awaiting their performance during the parish musical program last Sunday afternoon. A listing of Christmas music and services appears on pages 61-66.

Riverina Road Trees Threatened With Axe

The fate of 13 Riverina Road trees that Mass. Electric would like to cut down remains uncertain, but the town manager Monday night indicated that he may recommend going along with that proposal.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony told the selectmen that after a meeting with the electric company this week, it appears the company still favors cutting down 13 healthy trees, most of them Norway maples, to make way for more powerful electric lines.

That could be the most cost-effective option, the manager explained, because the company could use an existing line of poles and conductors.

Mass. Electric plans to replace the existing 4,000-volt power line with a 13,000-volt line to serve the new Riverina Road sewage

School Board To Seek Three-Year Budget Projection

By John P. Sawyer

The school committee will seek a three-year budget projection, try not to underfund programs in relation to results expected, and should begin to tackle the 1983-84 budget process on Jan. 4.

The committee may not be ready to "dive in" at that first meeting in January, according to Chairman Richard Neal, but will at least begin to "test the waters" for next year's budget.

Schoolmen Donald Robb and Robert Smith, who comprise the subcommittee on the budget process, suggested an approach to the upcoming proceedings — an approach other school committee members approved of.

Next year, and as a trend for future years under Proposition 2½, the committee has a much better idea of what the bottom line budget figure will be, explained Robb. He said the administration should prepare:

A THREE-YEAR budget projection based on the financial model and taking into consideration anticipated revenues and known costs;

A FIVE-YEAR history on budget ac-

Budget $70,000 Short

While the school committee Tuesday night decided on a direction for the 1983-84 budget process, committeemen also learned they have a potential problem with this year's budget.

The school department may end up spending $70,000 more than was allocated for the "Programs With Other School Districts" account, otherwise known as the "tuition-out" account. This covers, for the most part, special needs students who must be educated in other facilities, because their disability cannot be serviced in Andover schools.

Business Manager Frank Paul told the school committee a deficit is expected in the "tuition-out" account because of a large increase in students who require outside placements. That increase was a "surprise," he said, adding "It's an uncontrolled expense."

Paul said it had been hoped that some students would be able to return to Andover schools from outside placements and be

Cub Pack Conducts Races

Cub Scout Pack 72 held its annual racing car derby on Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, but an interesting twist was added. The cubs were instructed to build conestoga wagons instead of sleek modern racing cars. The results were well-built, model-size replicas of pioneer transportation.

The champs from each den were: Den 1, Justin Townsend; Den 2, Tim Grogean; Den 3, Steven Paro; Den 4, Matt Levine; Den 5, Steven Kessler. Scott Grogean was runner-up.

Tim Grogean emerged the winner of the event with Steven Kessler capturing second place.

Jeff Lewis' wagon was chosen as best looking with honorable mention going to Jason Milovanovic and Ben Streeter.

Samaritan Program

The Greater Lawrence Community Action Council, Inc. would like to make this Christmas a more pleasant one for the less fortunate families in the Greater Lawrence area by launching the seventh annual Good Samaritan Program and seeking donations of clean, used clothing, canned goods and toys in good condition, to be distributed among the needy.

Donations can be brought to all Arlington Trust and Valley Cooperative Banks in the Greater Lawrence area until Dec. 21.

These items are needed immediately to prepare for distribution by the GLCAC, Inc.

For further information, contact Mrs. Isabel Melendez, GLCAC, Inc., coordinator of the Good Samaritan Program.

Town House Topics

Selectmen Concerned About Flags

It's not always easy for a town to show its patriotic colors: The American flags Andover flies get stolen almost as fast as they're raised, and the selectmen would like to do something about it.

Selectman Edward Harris submitted a memo this week noting his concern about the problem, and asked the town manager to look into it. One possible solution, proposed by Donn Byrne, might be flagpoles with built-in locking devices that make it impossible to take down a flag without a key.

The manager suggested that a less expensive option might be to make sure the flags are taken down by town employees each night. The biggest problem, Manager Kenneth Mahony said, would be the flag located on Central Street, across from South Church, which is the least supervised area.

But at least the town isn't spending as much to replace its flags as in the past, the manager added. Instead of buying new flags at full price — $40 — Andover is now buying slightly-used flags from the nation's capital, at a mere $14 each. Senator Paul Tsongas, the manager said, "keeps us supplied."

Town Meeting Dates Are Established

Annual town meeting is months away, but the warrant will be open for insertion of articles next month, and will be closed in early February.

The selectmen Monday night agreed to open the warrant for the April meeting on Jan. 3, and close it on Feb. 7. That schedule, earlier than usual, will allow plenty of time for public hearings on articles before the annual meeting, the town manager noted.

The board also plans to begin serious budget deliberations early next month, Chairman Norma Gammon indicated.

To date, they haven't heard of any private articles that might be inserted on the 1983 warrant, the selectmen said — not even a gypsy moth spraying article.

Manager Reclassifies Employees

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony has reclassified about 60 of Andover's white collar workers — secretarial, clerical and management employees — by eliminating half of their former pay grades.

The selectmen Monday night voted unanimously to accept the manager's reclassification, which will cost the town $9,600 to cover the pay increases some employees are to receive this year (about $600 per employee). Next year, the new classifications will be included in the budget.

Mahony explained that he condensed the top 14 of 30 existing classifications into seven; he will tackle the bottom half next. Reclassification will make the responsibilities and salaries in each pay grade more uniform — and will leave room for annual merit increases. In the past, employees at the top step of a pay grade have had to be promoted to a new pay grade to receive a merit increase.

The manager explained that little has been done to keep job classifications up to date for a number of years. And Building Inspector Salvatore DeSalvo, representing the workers involved in the reclassification, agreed, calling it "the most fantastic thing that's hit the town in quite some time."

Christmas Party At Y

The Andover-North Andover YMCA's Leader Club is sponsoring two Christmas parties on Saturday, Dec. 18; a preschool party from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. and a party for children in grades 1-3 from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. Both parties will include games, refreshments, a present exchange (less than $3 for a gift) and a visit from Santa.

The cost is $1 for full-privilege members, $2 for basic members and $3 for non-members. Register at the YMCA by Dec. 17. For more information, contact the YMCA.

Presentation

Ron Hancock, right, president of the Andover Municipal Town Employees Union, is shown presenting a check to Harry O'Brien of Schenectady, N.Y., at the Ronald McDonald House in Brookline. Mr. O'Brien's three-year-old son is being treated for cancer and he and his father are presently residents of the home. The town employees had a fund raiser this past summer and the proceeds were given to the Ronald McDonald house, which is a home away from home for young cancer patients and their families while they are receiving treatment. Mr. Hancock looks forward to an even better fundraiser this year with the help of Paul Fischer, Bob-Giata, Scott Kirkpatrick, Helmut Lutsch, Mark Reilly and Bob-Waldie.

Named Scholar At Mt. Holyoke

Carol L. Beninati of Andover was named a Sarah Williston Scholar for her outstanding academic achievements during freshman and sophomore years at Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley.

The Sarah Williston recognition, given to juniors whose cumulative grade point average places them in the top 15 percent of the class, was announced during Founder's Day ceremonies at the 145-year-old private liberal arts college for women.

A graduate of Andover High School, Beninati is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. George Beninati of Whispering Pines.

South Presents Concert

The South School Cafeteria Thursday was the scene for the Winter Holidays concert by the chorus, band, South Side Singers, orchestra and recording ensemble consisting of about 200 boys and girls from grades 3-6.

Selections from Gilbert and Sullivan, the Nutcracker Suite and other folk and popular favorites to reflect the celebration of Christmas and Chanukah were played. There were two soloists: Anna Minkkinen on the baritone horn and Betsy Frankenberg on the flute. Bryan Boucher delighted everyone with the drums.

The South Side Singers and the chorus will present a program at the Methuen Mall on Dec. 15, continuing a tradition they have followed for the past few years.

UF Begins Budget Process

The Merrimack Valley United Fund has begun its annual budgeting and allocation process. Each of the 68-member agencies will make a presentation before the local volunteer budget committee during the next two months.

The committee is composed of 74 area volunteers who review the needs of each agency and recommend an annual allocation based on the amount of money the United Fund raises and the needs of the community. Donald R. Wrenthmore is chairman and three Andover residents, Peter V. Petrucci, Jr., Edward F. Spinelli and Jason C. Wright, are vice chairmen.

New honors for humanitarian service went to Dr. William V. Emmons of Andover on his selection of Man of Vision of the Massachusetts Affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness. Making the presentation at the organization's annual fund-raising dinner is Joseph E. McGuire, left, chairman of the board of the sight preservation agency. Dr. Emmons is a vice president of the society and served for a quarter century as treasurer of the New England Optometric Council.

Our traditional Christmas turkey does not appear on many menus around the world. The French reveillon, a feast which occurs after midnight Mass, is apt to feature oysters and sausages. In the French province of Brittany, buckwheat cakes with sour cream are served.

Elected To Honor Society

Philip Appleton and Rebecca Riehl of Andover were among the 22 Governor Dummer Academy students selected for the Governor Dummer Academy Honor Society. Elected to the society by faculty vote on the basis of campus leadership, scholarship and a significant contribution to extracurricular activities, Riehl was elected last year as a junior, while Appleton was elected this year as a senior. Scrolls and silver pins were presented to the new members and a dinner was held in their honor at the academy.

On December 13, the arrival of the Christmas season in Sweden is heralded by a portrayal of Saint Lucia. Garbed in white, with a flowing bright red sash and a pine bough crown glowing from the light of seven candles, she awakens the family and serves them coffee and cake.

Troop 79 Conducts Activities

Boy Scout Troop 79 of St. Robert Bellarmine Church participated in several activities since meetings began early in the Fall.

In September, 25 scouts were accompanied by five adults to do whitewater rafting on the Kennebec River in Maine.

Troop 79 participated in the Quad Council Camporee in Southboro in October. Twenty-five hundred scouts attended. Troop 79 finished third in the patrol competition, which attracted hundreds of patrols. For Halloween, Paul Conlon, together with other scouts, spent much time creating several scary areas in an old barn on Haggetts Pond Road (spooks and goblins were definitely present) and invited the entire troop, as well as some other youth groups, including St. Robert's, to take a tour, if they dared.

On Friday, Nov. 11, four new members, Craig Knight, Stephen Liaw, Scott Livermore and Vaibhav Khasgiwala, were inducted into the troop in a candlelight Court of Honor. The following week all members participated in a fun swim at the Greater Lawrence Technical School, followed by a pizza party. A week before Thanksgiving about a dozen scouts and family members journeyed to Plymouth to tour Plymouth Plantation, the Mayflower and view the famous rock.

Upcoming events include a freeze-out at Styles Pond and distribution of Tom Wat orders.

At times, strings of popcorn, berries and gilt nuts, as well as paper flowers, tiny dolls, candies and cookies, were used to decorate the Christmas tree.

$38,000

Pledged

More than $38,000 in contributions was pledged by Merrimack College alumni to the college's Annual Fund during an eight-night Alumni Fall Phonathon conducted last month.

Students, alumni, faculty and college administrators called more than 3,000 alumni nationwide to ask their support.

This sum does not include corporate matching gifts made by companies that employ alumni who contributed to the Annual Fund.

"Alumni from all over the country responded in a very generous fashion during a difficult economic period," commented Paul Bradley '61, alumni fund raising chairperson and North Andover resident.

Merrimack's director of annual giving, Rick Blain '74, extended the college's gratitude to the thousands of alumni "who are showing us that Merrimack is indeed 'their college'."

Funds go to scholarships for Merrimack students and for the college's general operating expenses.

The first English dukedom was created when King Edward III gave his son, the Black Prince, the title of Duke of Cornwall — a title retained today by Prince Charles.

Nina Furnari of Andover, a junior volunteer at Lawrence General Hospital, received a tote bag in honor of her 100-hour contribution from Nancy Flewwelin of Andover, representing the hospital's Aid Association. Mary O'Brien, volunteer director, looks on.

Appointed Registrar At Academy

Col. Thomas C. Wilkinson

Col. Thomas C. Wilkinson, vice commandant of cadets, has been named director of admissions and registrar at the U.S. Air Force Academy. He is replacing Col. Warren L. Simmons who is scheduled to retire from active duty the end of December. A replacement for Col. Wilkinson has not yet been announced.

Col. Wilkinson, a 1955 graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., has had varied operational experience as well as a strong background as a squadron and group air officer commanding at the academy prior to his assignment there in July 1980, first as deputy commandant of cadets for the Cadet Wing and then as vice commandant of cadets in July 1981.

The colonel is a graduate of Squadron Officer School and Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB, Ala. and the Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, Penna. He received his master's degree in public administration from the University of Oklahoma.

Col. Wilkinson has flown the T-33, F-86, F-100, F-101 and F-4 aircraft in Southeast Asia.

Early Christians performed a "ring dance" around a Nativity scene to tunes called "Wiegenlieder," in German, "noel" in French and "carols" in English. In time, words were added to tell a story, and carol singing has become one of the best-loved Christmas traditions.

He completed 121 combat missions, including 100 over North Vietnam, and is a command pilot with more than 3,500 flying hours. His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with 10 oak leaf clusters, Meritorious Service Medal with two oak leaf clusters, Air Force Commendation Medal with one oak leaf cluster and the Joint Services Commendation Medal.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin T. Wilkinson of Andover, Col. Wilkinson is married to the former Helen Devrow, daughter of Mrs. Juanita Devrow of Hattiesburg, Miss.

In France, a huge wicker figure clothed in outlandish garb and carrying a basket on its back is strapped on a donkey and paraded through the streets. Villagers fill the basket with food and gifts, which are received by the poor at the village church. The figure is named "Melchior" after one of the three Magi.

Alumni Chorale To Make Visits

Merrimack College Alumni Chorale will make its annual holiday rounds of hospitals and nursing homes in the Merrimack Valley this Sunday, Dec. 19.

The chorale, coordinated by the Rev. Thomas Walsh, has been singing holiday favorites for the ill and aged every Christmas since 1968.

The 40 Merrimack graduates will begin caroling at 10 a.m. at Hale Hospital, Haverhill; 11 a.m. at Mary Immaculate Nursing Home, Bennington Street, Lawrence; and 12 noon at Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen.

After a luncheon they will entertain in Lowell at St. John's Hospital at 2 p.m., St. Joseph's Hospital at 3:30 p.m. and Lowell General Hospital at 5 p.m.

The Speare House in Lowell will provide the carolers with a free banquet at the end of the long day.

Andover residents in the Merrimack Alumni Chorale are Lois Peters, 114 Wild Rose; Mary Ellen Evans, 75 Spring Grove Road; Jean Powers, 7 Midland Circle; and Eileen Rogers, 91 Central St.

English Course

Merrimack College announces a pilot English as a Second Language (ESL) course to be offered from Jan. 3-13, Monday through Thursday at 9 a.m. This non-credit course is specifically designed to aid the transition from good English proficiency to more skill in the speaking and writing areas which are critical for the college student. The college is absorbing all costs of instruction. The only expense to the student will be $20 for books. Classroom and language laboratory work for four to five hours each day and additional assignments to be completed at home require that the 15 students accepted into the course be prepared to devote full time to improving their language skills.

Patricia J. Hennessey of the Merrimack College English Department who holds an M.A. in English from the University of Hartford and who has experience in Canada as well as at Merrimack with the teaching of ESL will be joined by Elaine L. Wilson who holds an M. Ed. from Boston University where she specialized in teaching English as a second language. Wilson directed the ESL program at Phillips Academy, Andover, and has taught ESL at Boston College in Chestnut Hill since 1978.

An English proficiency test will be arranged by Kevin Synnott, assistant to the dean of continuing education, to determine a student's ability level.

The Ribbons Begin To Come After Hours Of Dedication

By Sue Aucella Deacon

He is a dedicated gymnast. He is strong, flexible, graceful — and most of all, he is willing to work hard for his sport, spending hours of his free time every week working out.

He's also 11 years old.

Jason Fox, dark-haired, rosy-cheeked and elfin-faced, is the son of James and Ruth Ann Fox of Walnut Avenue. He took up gymnastics two years ago, when his mother enrolled him in the Merrimack Valley Gymnastics Club of Lawrence. How did she know he was interested in gymnastics?

"I was doing flips all around the house," he explains with a grin.

"It's something he chose. His dedication comes from within," Ruth Ann Fox adds. "His first-grade teacher told me that he stood up in school one day and said he wanted to be a gymnast. I didn't even know he knew the word."

His dedication won him three blue ribbons (and three more ribbons) during his first competition last month. Jason earned the second-highest score at a Nov. 21 meet at the Massachusetts Gymnastics Center in Waltham, where more than 100 young gymnasts from all over the state gathered to compete. "I missed first by two-tenths of a point," he says.

While his parents watched, Jason took first place in his division on rings, floor exercises and high bar; second place on parallel bars, and fourth place on the vault. "I was fairly nervous," he admits, but after he won, "I was happy. And surprised."

Jason, a fifth-grade student at St. Augustine's School, spends three or four afternoons a week working out at the gymnastic club's gym in the LaSalle building in Lawrence. Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday — and sometimes Thursday — he "stretches out" to warm up, then goes through his paces on the mat, parallel bars, pommel horse, high bar, rings, and vault.

He won't admit to having a favorite event, but offers that floor exercises are "what I'm best at." While his coach, Scott MacDonald of Methuen, watches carefully, Jason moves through a series of floor exercises in the cool, dimly-lit gym. Music can be heard in the background.

Dressed in a red t-shirt and warm-up pants, he pushes up into a handstand, turns around on his hands, spreads his legs into a V, then slowly brings his legs to the floor and sits down in one smooth movement. He does back walkovers, front walkovers, handstands from a sitting position, handsprings from a running start — all again and again, across the mats and back. He looks agile and graceful.

"Most people probably think it's going to be easy," he says of his sport, which does indeed look effortless when practiced by a talented gymnast. "But it's really going to be hard. You're going to have to work — there's a lot of conditioning — and try!"

Building up strength is the hardest part, Jason says — along with conquering the fear of trying a new move for the first time. "You get very scared. Like on the 'giant' — that's a handstand on the high bar, then you swing around. But you get used to it."

How long it takes to leave the fear on the ground "depends on the move and how much you work on it," he explains. "And if you don't work on it for a while," he warns, "you can lose it."

Ruth Ann Fox says she is glad she found the gymnastics club, and happy that Jason has found an outlet for his athletic energies. Jason is grateful for his coach, who has helped him "a lot. Sometimes he has to be a little strict to get you going," he confides.

Jason's young coach says a would-be gymnast needs to be strong and flexible, "but the first thing you look for is if they want to work. Flexibility and muscle condition are important, but they have to have the desire. You can't expect to be good unless you work for it."

Coach MacDonald tries to vary his practice sessions by adding new moves "to make it interesting," but there's no avoiding "the basics," moves that have to be perfected by practice — over and over again.

"That's where a lot of kids lose interest," he says. "It takes a long time to get good. Jason does well because he works hard and he really enjoys it. He's a great kid, too. He gets along with everyone."

And, MacDonald adds, the bubbly Jason is also "a little ham. He loves to perform. But that's good — it's usually the hams who do well when they're competing."

Jason is the youngest of nine children (the oldest is 29), with seven brothers and one sister. (Brother John recently ran in the Democratic primary for state representative.) Almost all are athletically inclined, but only one brother, Jeffrey, ever tried gymnastics, Jason says.

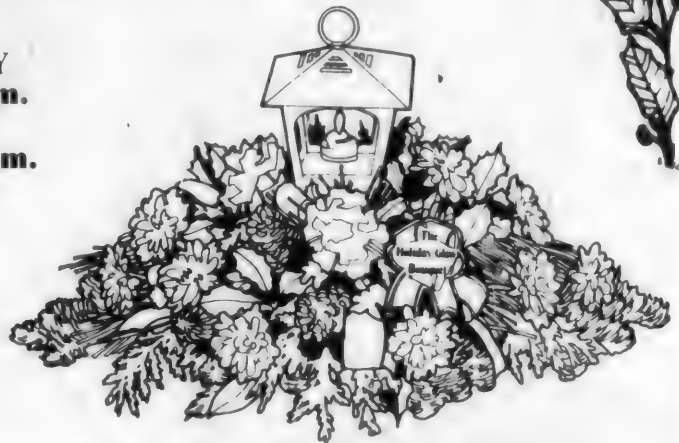

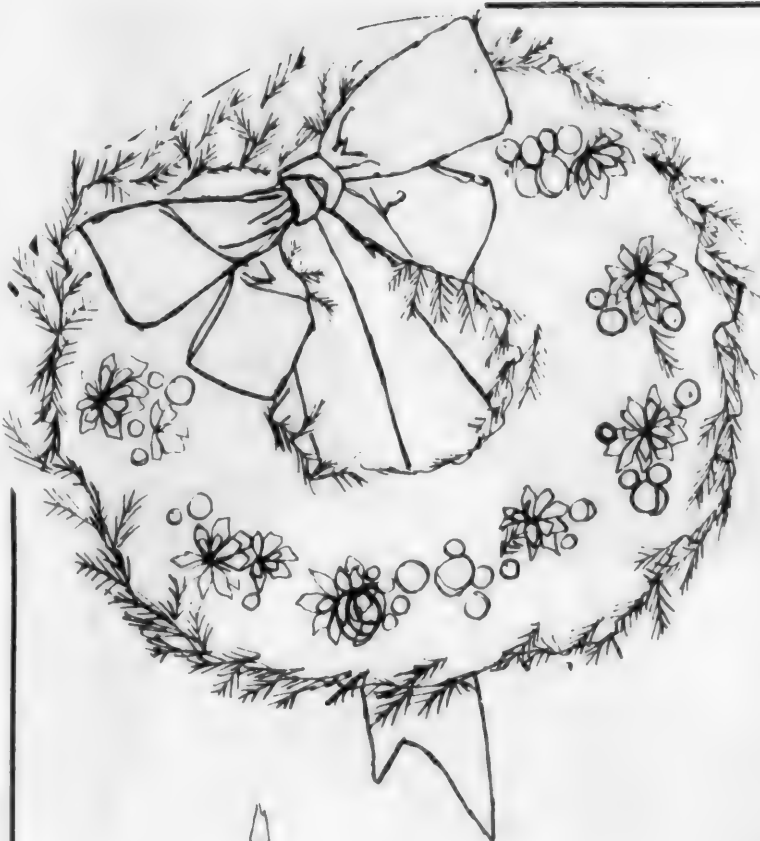

His favorite subject at school: "Gym!"

Andover High Students Display Maturity At Model UN Session

By John P. Sawyer

Last Monday, they were honing up on procedure and handling issues.

But starting Thursday afternoon, and until Sunday afternoon, 37 members of the United Nations class at Andover High School participated in the Harvard Model United Nations at the university's campus in Cambridge.

"It went very well," said teacher Craig Simpson. "I was very pleased with the students. The maturity level was exceptionally good."

Some of the Andover delegates represented the country of Bangladesh and some the country of Saudi Arabia in the simulated United Nations activities. High school students from all over the United States participated in the forum, in which political issues were discussed as they would be at the real United Nations in New York.

Simpson noted the Andover students were "very involved in the simulation and did a terrific job of representing their countries' viewpoints."

"They were extremely well-prepared" and did a "terrific job," he said.

Students had equal words of praise for their faculty advisors and said they had learned a great deal from the Harvard experience.

"It gives you an idea of how the U. N. (United Daud Kahn Majlis, of Bangladesh, journalist and former minister of communications, spoke to Andover High students.

Nations) really works and how difficult their job really is," observed Peter Scanlon. Noni Klaiman said the experience made her realize the difficulty involved in arriving at a consensus on issues.

Model UN

Proper procedures were followed, as students were assigned to serve on subcommittees and hold individual sessions. The Harvard Model United Nations was about 30 hours of work for participants, said Simpson, who explained the program emphasized role playing and compromising within a committee to attain a consensus.

Through the experience, students are able to understand the strengths and weaknesses of the real United Nations. Students are not only given the chance to hear views from other parts of the world, but they are also forced to experience and empathize with those views, thereby broadening their own vision of the world.

Political issues, such as disarmament, and humanitarian issues, such as health care, development of third world countries and disaster relief funding, were considered at the Harvard Model U.N.

Andover students stayed overnight at the Sheraton-Prudential in Boston during the long weekend.

The United Nations course at Andover High is an elective, meets everyday for ½ year, and culminates in a final project.

notes in the Harvard activities, according to Simpson, who noted it's one of the few courses where students gain experience outside of the school at interacting with other students from other places.

Daniel LeClerc, social studies program advisor, said the United Nations class has doubled in size over last year.

Students on Dec. 3 listened to guest speaker Daud Kahn Majlis of Bangladesh, a journalist and former minister of communications.

Monday's class, before the Harvard activities, gave students the opportunity to practice their procedural skills.

A simulated resolution to fight terrorism was debated. Class members were assigned to take the positions of various countries, such as Argentina, Kenya, Japan, Peru, Soviet Union, Jordan and others. Students had one minute apiece to speak on the issue, propose changes or amendments. Simpson supervised to make sure they worked within proper diplomatic channels and procedure.

Students taking the trip to Harvard were:

Kelley Shannon (head delegate-Bangladesh), Jon Baer, Brandon Bachner, Wendeline Baily, Carla Derba, Steve Johnson, Marisa Sullivan, Gwen Johnson, Rick Hall, Gerry Ahearn, Daryl Taylor, Rich Mangano, Brian Darling, Marc Bolan, Jennifer Harrison, Mark Walsh, Wendy Sullivan, Dave Barron, Theresa Park, Bob Nuzzo, Brett Larrabee, Phil Puccia.

Also: Peter Scanlon (head delegate-Saudi Arabia), Scott Harris, Trish Marisola, Tim Jennings, Cathie Batson, Mike Jayes, Tracy Dowd, Paul Rollins, Ann Marie Tanin, Mike Clevesy, Robbie Robinson, Noni Klaiman, Paul Yannalfo, Laura Grams, Kathy Donovan.

Special recognition went to Cathy Batson and Kelly Shannon, who received awards for being named outstanding delegates in their committees.

Smokeout

An estimated 19 million smokers participated in the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout on Nov. 18, according to a nationwide survey by the society's volunteers. The society expects that one million of these smokers will still not be smoking a year from now.

The Great American Smokeout was conceived in 1977 as a light-hearted "fun" day on which cigarette smokers would be urged to give up the habit for only 24 hours, mainly to prove to themselves and their friends that they could. However, a study done by the American Cancer Society following its 1980 Smokeout suggests that more than a million American adults who went without cigarettes for 24 hours also quit permanently on Smokeout Day that year.

High School Investment Club Formed

To introduce Andover High School students to the intricacies of the world of finance, an investment club has been formed. The club will meet during X period once each month and is open to all interested students.

Officers elected at the first meeting were John Nicosia, president, and Jim L. Nelson, treasurer. The members are investing an imaginary portfolio of $10,000 each month in a contest to see who can have the best investment results between now and the end of the school year. Dues are collected monthly and the winning investor will be awarded shares of stock purchased from the collected dues.

In keeping with Principal Mary Jennings goal of utilizing citizens of the community to enhance and enrich programs

Preschool In Visit To Hospital

Children from the Free Church Cooperative Preschool visited the Lawrence General Hospital on Friday, Dec. 10. The children were shown medical equipment that is commonly used at the hospital and had an opportunity to try some of the equipment used in the physical therapy room.

Previous field trips included apple picking at the Smolak farm in North Andover and the Children's Discovery Museum in Acton.

Membership in the Free Church Cooperative Preschool for 1983-84 is now open for children who will be four years old before Sept. 1 of the school year. Interested parents should contact the membership chairmen, Mrs. David Melvin and Mrs. Fred Nowell III, for more information. The Free Church Cooperative Preschool is a non-sectarian nursery school on Elm Street, Andover.

Commentator

Local clothes designer Gay Casey served as a fashion commentator during an informal fur modeling session at the Self Care Center on Main Street, Tewksbury, recently.

The event was sponsored by Charles Mello, owner and president of the comprehensive salon that provides total beauty care for men and women.

Casey, a well-known fashion figure, commented on furs estimated to be worth a half million dollars. More than 1,000 people attended. The occasion gave Mellon an opportunity to thank his clients for their continued support during the year.

The party was scheduled in conjunction with Mello's fifth anniversary. Neil S. Orenstein, nutritionist, discussed the importance of vitamins for healthy hair and skin. Wandering minstrels provided musical entertainment. A wine tasting corner provided an opportunity to taste local Massachusetts wines.

AFS Welcomes Kris Kringle

The American Field Service Club of Andover High School has begun its yearly custom of celebrating the holiday season with its visits from 'Kris Kringle.'

Each member of the student club has a secret 'Kris Kringle' who, following an old European custom, is the giver of gifts, cards and decorations during the holiday season.

In an updated version at the high school, the decorating extends to the lockers. At a special time near Christmas, each club member will learn who their special 'Kris Kringle' has been.

The American Field Service seeks to promote interest in other countries and their customs. High school officers this year are: Beth Bellia, president; Tricia Gannon and Vicki Katsaros, vice presidents; Janice Gable, secretary and Debby Care, treasurer.

Tradition

Decorating a locker in the 'Kris Kringle' tradition at Andover High School are American Field Service Club Vice President Tricia Gannon, right and Kathy Donovan.

For centuries, small Spanish settlements in the American southwest have celebrated Christmas Eve with torchlight or candlelight processions. Paths to hillside shrines and churches are lit with pinon wood bonfires known as shepherd's fires or "luminarias."

Self-employed.?. You deserve a tax break.

Open a Keogh Account with Andover Bank before Dec. 31 and you can deduct up to $15,000 from your 1982 taxable income.

With Keogh Plans, the federal government has created a special tax shelter for the self-employed.

A Keogh Plan allows you to deduct up to $15,000 or 15% of your 1982 income, whichever is less.

Not only will you get a tax break now, but you'll also be saving for your retirement and earning a high yield on your savings in a fully insured certificate with Andover Bank.

And both principal and interest in a Keogh Plan are free from federal taxes until you retire. Interest paid on Keogh Plans is free from state income taxes until you retire.

There's still time to take advantage of a retirement savings program with Andover Bank and have it count toward your 1982 taxes. All you need do is stop into any office of Andover Bank and open your Keogh Plan before December 31. Or your Individual Retirement Account before April 15, 1983. Contributions made to either can be deducted from your gross income when you file your tax return. And you have until April 15, 1983 to make contributions to either program.

But don't wait until the last minute to open your Keogh. Do it today. If you're self-employed, you deserve a tax break.

Local Families Host PA Seniors From Europe

Five Kemper Scholars from France, Spain, Italy and West Germany are living in Andover this fall as Phillips Academy day students. Thanks to the hospitality of local families, Carlos, Nathalie, Corinne, Paolo, Miguel and Stephanie each have a home away from home and are learning about American town and family life first hand during their first term as seniors at the academy.

These 1982 Kemper Scholars are participating in a seven-year old program which commemorates John Mason Kemper, 11th headmaster of Phillips Academy, and his interest in foreign study and family life for secondary students. The academy first became widely known as an international school during his administration.

Nathalie Bachet, from Antibes, France, is spending fall term on Chestnut Street with the Joseph Schoonovers who have three daughters at PA, 11th grade triplets, Karen, Kirsten and Ketti. Corinne Maudet, who lives near Rennes, France, is living in the faculty home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Sykes who recently returned from a year in Rennes where Mr. Sykes taught English at School Year Abroad. Paolo Parvolo of Bologna, Italy, has a home on Holt Road with the Robert Pomeroy, parents of Lisa, an 11th grader at Phillips.

The Stamen Zlatevs of Pioneer Circle, parents of senior Anita, are family to Miguel Rodriguez-Girones of Madrid. Stephanie Sollick, from Gottingen, West Germany, is living on Sherry Drive with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stark whose son, Peter, entered the tenth grade at PA this year. The sixth Kemper Scholar, Carlos Alberto Avila of Barcelona, Spain, is brother to Stephanie Boyko of Methuen, whose family, the Alexander Boykos, live on Tyler Street.

The fall term home stay is a key feature of the Kemper School Program, according to PA French instructor Hale Sturges, its coordinator. "It succeeds because each year enough day student families from Andover, North Andover, Lawrence or Methuen open their homes and their families to these alert European students, who are eager to learn about America. Their cross-cultural hospitality benefits both the student and the family, and can be the beginning of a long transatlantic friendship." Any local family, with or without a child at PA, who would like to host a Kemper Scholar next year should contact Sturges at Phillips Academy.

Dean's Host

Sally Bezanson of Hampton Lane, Andover, was recently selected a dean's host at Boston University's School of Education. She is a freshman majoring in special education.

The dean's hosts are undergraduate students who work with the office of the dean, representing the school at open houses and special events, giving tours of the school to prospective students and providing information on academic programs and campus life.

Doherty Junior High Happenings

By Kim Guzowski

For the past few weeks the ninth grade mixed chorus, conducted by Thomas Button, and the band, conducted by Alan Minkinen, have been rehearsing for a concert to take place this week during the school day. This concert will allow parents to come see their children and then visit the classrooms.

This year we are experimenting with a student advisor program. All interested seventh, eighth and ninth graders picked a teacher or guidance counselor to be someone to talk with if any problems arise in the student's life, as well as discuss things with other students who picked the same teacher.

Last Friday the tryouts for basketball cheerleaders were held. Congratulations to the following who were chosen: John Paskowsky, Sheryl Stephens and Melissa Morton. They will represent Doherty along with Cheryle Scarpa, Katy Murphy, Katy Hughes, Kristine Buchanan, Kathy Veno, Ann Taylor, Candice Kirkles, Amy Morton and Margaret Easton.

A few important events that have been happening at Doherty include the mixed chorus' performance at the local merchants' Family Night. Featured were six performers who are entered in the district meet this winter: Jessica Bamford, Nicole DeMartino, Caelin Graber, Kerri Howard, Nicole Krauson and Robin Prost. Doherty Junior High students on the Andover High indoor track team are Nicole DeMartino and Tim McAllister.

We would like to congratulate a student who saved a man's life recently. Caelin Graber saw a man collapsed on a porch a short distance from the school. She immediately ran to Doherty and informed the office. An ambulance was called and the man was taken to the hospital.

Our hats are off to Caelin Graber for her calm presence of mind and immediate action that saved this man's life.

Driver Education Course At Y

The Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. is accepting registrations for a complete Driver Education Course, designed for future drivers who would like to learn to drive correctly and save on their automobile insurance. Elizabeth Marascia, instructor for Conti Auto School, Inc., licensed by the Registry of Motor Vehicles, will offer 30 hours of classroom training, plus six one-hour driving lessons. The eight-week course will emphasize basic through advanced driving skills and help build confidence behind the wheel. To be eligible for an insurance discount, a Driver Education Certificate will be issued to those who successfully complete the course. Additional services available include individual driving lessons, pick-up service and use of school automobile for driving test.

The course will begin Jan. 11 and be held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

For further information, call the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A.

Legend tells how a real St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop in Turkey, gave a bag of gold as a dowry to each daughter of an impoverished nobleman. To remain anonymous, he would throw each bag through a window. By chance one fell into a stocking hung near the chimney. Discovered as the benefactor, Nicholas became known as the secret giver of gifts.

Christmas Carol At Center

The Garrett Players of Lawrence will present a benefit, one-time performance of Charles Dickens' famous "A Christmas Carol" on Monday, Dec. 20, at the Christian Formation Center, River Road, Andover at 8 p.m.

The performance will be a courtesy return benefit staged for the CFC Players of the Christian Formation Center.

There will be an admission charge.

Holiday Lectures Scheduled

The Somers Trust, Psychological Associates of 11 Chestnut St., Andover, will offer a series of free lectures and discussions entitled "The Holidays: Reminiscence and Mixed Feelings." This three-part series will be held Monday, Dec. 20, Monday, Dec. 27, and Thursday, Jan. 6, at 6:30 p.m. at Chestnut Street.

Part one will cover the depression, loneliness and stress experienced by many during the holiday season. This workshop will be led by Dr. Leon Somers, a licensed psychologist and director of The Somers Trust. Part two will cover the topic of suicide. Robert Stern, a therapist for The Somers Trust and psychological researcher on depression and loneliness, will lead this workshop. Part three will deal with the issues surrounding stepfamilies during the holidays and will be led by Judy Osborne, a therapist for the Somers Trust and co-director of Step-family Associates of Brookline.

All three workshops are free and open to the public, including adolescents, parents and senior citizens. Special arrangements can be made for church, synagogue and community groups. Participants are welcome to attend any or all three workshops. For more information, contact The Somers Trust.

Bonds Sold

State treasurer Robert Q. Crane announced that "for the first time in its history, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts sold its ten million dollars in mini bonds before the end of the sale period. This is a very salutary result, and it reinforces my belief that the average citizen of Massachusetts appreciates and deserves a plausible investment opportunity."

The bonds are in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, pay 8 percent interest, are federal and state tax exempt, which translates to a return of as much as 14 or 15 percent, depending on an individual's tax bracket.

"I want to congratulate all the treasury people involved in the sale, together with the personnel of the lottery and Registry of Motor Vehicles. This is a wonderful example of intra and inter state office cooperation, and it produced this very extraordinary result. My sincere thanks goes to all of them, along with the individual bond purchasers who had such faith in the Commonwealth and its stability," said Crane.

"They who are of opinion that money will do everything may very well be expected to do everything for money."

Commissioned

Navy Ensign Carlene D. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton D. Wilson, 204 Mill Road, North Andover, has been commissioned in her present rank upon graduation from Officer Candidate School (OCS).

OCS, located at the Naval Education and Training Center, Newport, R.I., is designed to prepare students to assume the duties and responsibilities of commissioned officers.

During the 16-week course candidates studied the principles of leadership, manpower management techniques, navigation and communications. They studied Navy history, traditions and missions, the structure and organization of naval commands, military courtesy, uniform regulations, seamanship and the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

Gain Honors At Central

Several Andover students have earned honors status at Lawrence Central Catholic High School for the first quarter, according to Brother Kenneth V. Hogan, principal.

Principal's scholarships are awarded to one student in each year level who receives a $100 grant. Selected by the faculty for involvement in school activities, school spirit, devotedness and loyalty, the award is an incentive to all students and not necessarily the honor student.

First honors are accorded students with an A average with a grade no lower than a B. Second honors go to students with a B average with no grade lower than a C.

Seniors - First Honors: Steven Salvi, Robert Veilleux.

Second Honors: Timothy Corkery, Kenneth Doherty, Robert Harrison, Christopher O'Reilly.

Juniors - Principal's Scholarship: John Sheedy.

First Honors: Daniel Paradis.

Second Honors: Daniel Bovenzi, Matt Dispensa, Kevin Hannon, John Sheedy, John Veilleux.

Sophomores - First Honors: Kevin Byrne, William Melahn, Philip Minotti, Richard Sullivan, James Veilleux.

Second Honors: Daniel Beckerman, Joseph Caffrey, Michael Gerroir, Christopher Morrison.

Freshmen - First Honors: John Hurtado, Jose Parron, Ronald Peck.

Second Honors, First Quarter: Francis Bruno, David Coppeta, Robert Foley, George Lentz, Eric Peters, Michael Salvi, Jeffrey Smith.

New Manager

Dr. Jan Fontein, director of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, announced the appointment of Clementine Brown as director of marketing and promotion and named Linda Rapoza Patch, manager of the publicity department. Brown's promotion comes after 12 years of service to the museum as manager of the department of public information where she recently headed the museum's promotional effort for the opening of the West Wing. Her primary responsibility will be to develop new audiences for the museum. She will continue national press relations for the museum as well.

Patch has served as assistant manager of the public information department for the past two years. Before that she was promotion director at WCRB-FM and worked as a writer in the marketing publicity department at Polaroid Corporation. Patch is a graduate of Wheaton College in Norton and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in English Literature.

Brown served as assistant to the president and director of corporate communications for Stop & Shop, Inc. before joining the museum in 1970. She has served on the board of the Massachusetts Cultural Alliance, Prison Art Project and Boston Ballet. She was the co-chairman and co-founder of the public relations committee for the American Association of Museums and a co-founder of Museums of Boston.

Holiday Crime Warning Issued By Bank Group

The Security and Loss Prevention Committee of the Massachusetts Bankers Association warned bank customers, elderly persons and the general public to be especially careful and vigilant about the types of swindles, schemes, con games and other related crimes which increase dramatically during the holiday season. While such crimes are reported throughout the year, they seem to rise noticeably during the holiday season for several reasons: there is a heavier turnover of cash, greater use of checks and credit cards, more people in stores and on the streets, a tendency towards carelessness by many shoppers, and a higher concentration of senior citizens in public areas—all attractive elements to the con man or thief. Inez Moore, chairwoman of the Security and Loss Prevention Committee, noted consumer beware: when those checks or credit cards are stolen, report it.

Notify the banks immediately when your checks or credit cards are stolen.

Most large banks have 24-hour hot lines to report lost or stolen credit cards.

Protect your cancelled checks, credit cards and debit cards; never leave them in your office or the glove compartment of your car.

When checks are stolen, they are normally taken from the middle or back of the checkbook.

Store your blank checks in a safe place. Destroy blank checks that will not be used.

Be cautious when writing checks or making deposits. Never expose your bank balance or account number to strangers.

Immediately reconcile your bank statement. Make sure that no checks have been altered and that they all bear your signature and the correct amount. Notify the bank immediately of any of these discrepancies.

Notify the bank if you change your address or if your bank statement or new checks are late in arriving through the mail. There is always the possibility they have been stolen.

When you make an error on a check or deposit slip, before discarding it, tear it in half. People can still access your account number by rummaging through waste baskets.

The law does not hold the bank responsible for the careless customer.

When you apply for an automatic teller machine card, you generally select a personal identification code number known only to you. It is the policy of all banks never to telephone and ask for this number. Your personal identification code number should never be given out or written on the card. It is a number that is known only to the card holder. For security and protection, keep the number to yourself and enjoy the newest convenience in banking. If your card has been lost or stolen, contact your bank immediately.

The most common swindle is the Pigeon Drop. The first con approaches the mark or victim, engaging him in idle conversation. The second rushes up, excited over having just found an envelope containing a large amount of cash. Also in the envelope is a note stating the money is a pay-off on a big drug deal. After debating whether to return the money, the con calls a friend who is an 'attorney' for advice.

Since the money was obtained illegally, the 'attorney' sees no reason why they should not keep it. He suggests, however, they wait a few days while he checks to see if the police are investigating.

The con then suggests that as an act of good faith each of the three put up $5,000. It is agreed and the three split up, meeting again later with their money and drive to the lawyer's office.

One con takes the money inside and, after killing some time in the lobby, returns to say the lawyer wishes to speak with each of them individually. The mark is sent in and while he searches for the non-existent office, he slowly realizes he will never see his money or his 'partners' again.

How to avoid this swindle:

Never expect something for nothing.

Do not escort strangers to your bank.

Do not turn money over to strangers who promise a substantial gain at a minimal risk. Very few

Firearms

The Andover Sportsmen's Club will sponsor the NRA Home Firearms Responsibility Course at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 26 and 27. All necessary materials will be provided. Do not bring firearms. For further information and registration, call or make checks payable to Andover Sportsmen's Club, P.O. Box 255, Andover, MA 01810.

legitimate transactions require cash.

Some people are embarrassed to report if they have been the victim of a swindle. Never, never hesitate to contact the local police or your bank if you have been victimized. When you report it, you are helping someone else, and to help someone is what the holiday season is all about.

Irish Art

The works of seven Irish painters are being displayed in the Dodge Library Art Gallery at Northeastern University through Dec. 22.

Sponsored jointly by the university's division of fine arts, the Irish Studies Committee and Aer Lingus, this is the first major Irish exhibition in Boston in a decade.

Robert Wells, Northeastern art professor who assembled the show, said, "The essential thrust of the paintings is landscape, both urban and rural."

The artists, who have not exhibited in this country before, are Susan Webb, Lawson Burch, Doreen Dunne, Clare Cryan, Owen Walsh, Patrick Walshe and Joseph McWilliams.

Gallery hours are Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The gallery is free and open to the public.

The senior citizens of Saint Augustine's Parish were treated to a special holiday program at the parish convent last week. Eighth grade students served lunch and entertained guests with music, songs, and poems. Photos clockwise from top: Mary Zompa, 6 Kathleen Drive, Nicole Minotti, 16 Rattlesnake Hill Road, and Elizabeth Melahn, 18 Ballardvale Road, provided Christmas carols and music; Santa visited the group and had something in his sack for all. Mary Collins, 2 Florence St., accepts a gift, and Mildred Baldwin, 100½ Main St., receives a holiday package.

Greer Family To Portray Holy Family In Pageant

An Andover couple and their daughter will play the parts of Joseph, Mary and Baby Jesus at the Christmas Outdoor Pageant of the West Parish Church Sunday, Dec. 19, at 5 p.m.

Pat and Jerry Greer and their daughter, Rachel, will join more than 30 members of the church in this unique reenactment of the age-old biblical story of the birth of Christ.

Complete with animals and costumes, this pageant will be held at the Maxfield farm, 111 Reservation Road, Andover. The narration is based on the Gospel story according to Matthew and will include a visit from the Littlest Angel and the Little Drummer Boy as well as the shepherds and Wisemen.

Production staff includes: John McMurray and James Batchelder, design and setting; Vahey Gulezian, Robert Haeffling and Carl Guild, construction; Eleanor Carlson, costumes; Janice Gulezian and Michelle Guild, makeup; Glen Gulezian and Charles Habeeb, lighting; Donald Ellsworth, animals; Richard Ballou, Martha Ballou and David Fitzgerald, refreshments.

Traditional Christmas music will be provided by the West Parish Choir, under the direction of Mark Peterson, the church's music director. Jane Cormier Peterson will sing "O Holy Night."

Following the processional, the pageant participants will form a still Nativity scene in the stable.

The cast includes Pat Greer, Mary; Jerry Greer, Joseph; Rachel Greer, Baby Jesus; Sheryl Manies, Scott Livermore, Sarah Perry, Jason Garland, Jennifer Schroeder, Kim Guild, Adam Guild, Rebecca Morris, Krista Nickerson, Kent Conforti and Kristen Schmuhl, shepherds.

Also, Mandy Gulezian, Heather Ann Reed, Jessica Tobin, Lisa Gabriel, Jennifer Tobin, Sarah Whitman, Diane Ellsworth, Deborah Hammer,

Scientists at Columbia University have reported that the summer antarctic ice pack has decreased in size by nearly one million square miles, or 30 percent, since the early 1970s. This is attributed to the warming of the atmosphere by rising carbon dioxide levels which, since 1800, have increased 15 to 25 percent as a result of burning fossil fuels.

Christine DerAnanian, Heather Pierog, Sarah Schmuhl, Holly Clark and Jenni Amirto, angels; Craig DerAnanian, Little Drummer Boy; Kristi Amirto, Littlest Angel; and Jeff deBeer, Robert Antonellis, Greg deBeer, Kristen Garland, Laura Hammer and Amanda Witman, pages.

The committee emphasized that the pageant will be approximately one-half hour in length and will begin promptly at 5 p.m. People will not be asked to stand outside for a long period of time. However, those attending should wear warm clothing and boots.

Refreshments, including traditional lentil soup, will be served.

Chanukah Party At Temple

A Chanukah party will follow special services at Temple Emanuel of the Merrimack Valley 101 West Forest St. Lowell, on Friday, Dec. 17.

Participants are invited to bring their favorite latkes as well as toppings. A gift exchange will take place.

Temple Emanuel will also celebrate the anniversary of its solar-powered Eternal Light. For further information, call Sondra Fnegold or Jan Rooney.

Continuing A Tradition

Rev. and Mrs. Gary A. Cornell conducted a Christmas Open House annually at the parsonage when they were in Barrington, R.I. and this past Sunday continued the tradition at the Ballard Vale United church. Here, they greet Dan Ely during the Sunday afternoon reception at the Calrk Road parsonage.

St. Augustine's To Host Music Program

St. Augustine's Church will have a special Christmas music program on Sunday, Dec. 19, at 7 p.m. in the church on Essex Street. Sanders Allen, St. Augustine's new music director, said the evening will be a Lessons and Carols Service and will trace the history of salvation of man and Adam to Christ. There will be readings from the Gospel and the choirs and congregation will join in hymns.

Allen, who joined St. Augustine's in October, has begun many new innovations in the church's musical programs. The Dec. 19 function will highlight all the new choirs, including the boys' choir. The public is invited.

Family Service At Church

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist, United Church of Christ) will mark the fourth Sunday of Advent with a special family service at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor, will preach as his theme "A Power to Grasp." The choir, under the direction of James Sayers, will sing as the offertory "The Virgin Mary Had a Baby Boy." The children of the church school will present a Christmas pageant during the service. Mrs. Ann McGovern is the director of the pageant. The congregation will be invited into the Shaw Fellowship Hall from some Christmas cake and a time of fellowship, following the service.

Courses Offered

Rivier College will offer a variety of non-credit courses for personal development during spring semester 1983, ranging from techniques of personal financial planning to secrets of Greek pastries.

The courses meet one a week for up to nine weeks during the semester and each carries a basic tuition fee in addition to the fixed registration fee. A few courses may also have a small additional fee for special equipment or supplies.

Personal Financial Planning will help you to analyze your current position, define your goals in economic terms and understand methods to deal with taxes and inflation. Learn how to build assets, how insurance can help and hurt you and how to have your estate handled. Included in the six-week course is one free hour of personal counseling by professional financial planners.

How Computers Work is a painless introduction to computers for the layperson, including hands-on experience with an Apple II microcomputer. Topics will include the inner workings of computers, the types of languages they use and the impact of computers on the average person's life in the future. Students will learn the fundamentals of the BASIC computer language and will write several simple programs.

Adult Career Development, designed to facilitate a career decision, will provide four self-assessment inventories to identify each participant's work-related characteristics. Individual plans for achieving career goals will be developed.

A positive response to stress can be learned, and the Coping With stress course will train participants in ways of preventing illness through controlling the effects of stress in their lives. Topics include sources of emotional stress and effects on health and personal lives. Techniques for tension reduction and relaxation to control effects of stress will be learned.

Exotic baklava and other Near East pastries, using traditional recipes, will be taught in the two-week Greek Pastry Preparation course.

Students will learn how to make chocolate candies for Easter, panoramic sugar eggs and other treats in the Holiday Candy Making For Fun and Profit course.

Students will learn the role that clothing plays in their lives and how to put together an appropriate wardrobe that does not need to be over-priced in the Dressing For Success.

John R. Sughrue

John R. Sughrue of 27 Young St., Tewksbury, a former selectman and well-known builder, died Dec. 7 at his home. He was 47.

A Tewksbury native, Mr. Sughrue attended Tewksbury schools. He was a selectman from 1976 until 1979, and served on the municipal building committee since 1975. He had also served on the town's Charter Commission and the DPW study committee, and completed an independent study on the town's ambulance service. Along with his brother, Richard, he was co-owner of Sughrue Brothers of Tewksbury. He was a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps, serving as a sergeant during the fifties. He belonged to the Tewksbury Lions, the Greater Lowell Board of Realtors, and the Greater Lowell Home Builders Association.

He leaves his wife, Janet B. (Kerrigan) Sughrue; three sons, Kenneth, Shaun and Daniel, all of Tewksbury; three daughters, Nancy Granese and Michelle Sughrue of Tewksbury, and Denise Saunders of Wilmington; one brother, Richard of Tewksbury; six sisters, Joan Dunlevy of Tewksbury, Mary Burke of Andover, Barbara Roper of Carlisle, Pa., Julia Morris of Wilmington, Marion Pare of Chelmsford and Theresa Patterson of Wilmington; one grandson, one granddaughter and a number of nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass was offered Saturday morning at St. Dorothy's Church, Wilmington. Burial was in Tewksbury Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Tewksbury Funeral Home, Dewey and Main streets, Tewksbury.

Theodore E. Meinelt, Jr.

Theodore E. Meinelt, Jr. of 173 Elm St., Andover, a World War II veteran and Pearl Harbor survivor, died Dec. 10 at Lawrence General Hospital after a long illness. He was 60.

A Lawrence native, Mr. Meinelt graduated from Lawrence High School in 1940. He served in the U.S. Navy during the second World War, and was one of few who survived the bombing of the USS Helena during the attack on Pearl Harbor. He worked as a mechanic for Delta Airlines. A 32nd degree Mason, he belonged to St. Matthews Lodge AF & AM, Andover, of which he was past master; the Scottish Rite Bodies of Lowell, Massachusetts Consistory of Boston, Rose Croix of Lowell, and Aleppo Temple of Wilmington. He was also a member of the USS Helena and USS Houston Associations, both organizations of Pearl Harbor survivors.

He leaves his wife, Shirley (Ambercrombie) Meinelt; one son, David, of Methuen; two daughters, Sandra C. Ebacher of Amesbury and Susan C. Meinelt of Andover; two brothers, Carl, of Waterbury, Conn. and Kenneth of Minnesota; one sister, Louise (Mrs. Robert) Horne of Lawrence; two grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at Allen Funeral Home, 402 Broadway, Lawrence. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Shriner's Burns Institute, Boston.

"Money is the seed of money, and the first guineas sometimes more difficult to acquire than the second million." — Jean Jacques Rousseau.

John F. McAtamney

John F. McAtamney of 6 Webb St., Salem, N.H., an Andover native, died Dec. 8 at Veterans Administration Hospital, Manchester, N.H., after a long illness. He was 54.

Born in Andover, Mr. McAtamney was educated in Andover schools. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II, and belonged to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Lawrence. He had lived in Michigan for a number of years, and returned to live in this area a year ago.

He leaves one sister, Agnes (Mrs. Armand) Roberts of Salem; one brother, James W. of Lawrence; and several nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass was offered Dec. 11 at St. Joseph's Church, Salem. Burial was in Pine Grove Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Goundrey Funeral Home, 42 Main St., Salem.

Mathilda Demers

Mathilda Demers of 107 North St., Andover, a former resident of Market Street, Lawrence, died Dec. 14 at her home after a brief illness. She was 79.

A Lawrence native, Miss Demers lived in the area throughout her life. She worked for the Arlington Mills until her retirement. She belonged to the Sacred Heart parish of Lawrence and the Third Order of Mary.

She leaves two sisters, Sister Mary Lucille, S.M.S.M. of Samoa and Imelda (Mrs. Paul L.) Boulanger of Andover; two brothers, Joseph F. and Gerard J. Demers, both of Lawrence; and a number of nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass will be offered at 9 a.m. Friday at Sacred Heart Church, Lawrence. Burial will be in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Andover. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Racicot Funeral Home, 256 Broadway, Lawrence.

Charles Antonopoulos

Charles J. Antonopoulos, also known as Charles J. Anton, of 34 West Bowers St., Lowell, the founder of Anton Cleaners, Inc., died Dec. 12 at Lowell General Hospital. He was 96.

Mr. Antonopoulos was born in Gardiki, Klep, Greece. He was a veteran of the Balkan War, serving with the Greek Army from 1912 to 1914. He served on the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety and was treasurer of Lowell's war bond drive during World War II.

He founded his drycleaning firm in 1923. Originally called Highland Cleaners and Dryers, Inc., it was to become the largest dry cleaning enterprise in the country.

He was also one of the founders of the Hellenic Orthodox Church of the Holy Trinity and the Transfiguration Greek Orthodox Church, serving as an officer on the board of directors of both churches. Active in numerous community and business organizations, he was past president of the Lowell Lions club; past supreme national president of the Federation of Sterea Hellas; past chairman of the Lowell Industrial and Development Commission and the Lowell Housing Authority; and a life member of former treasurer of the AHEPA, Chapter 102.

The widower of the late Paula (Vacass) Anton, he leaves four sons, John C. of Tewksbury, Arthur C. of Chelmsford, Alexander C. of Lowell, with whom he lived, and Socrates C. of Dracut; seven grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, three nieces, three nephews, and a number of nieces and nephews living in Greece.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church. Burial was in Westlawn Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the O'Donnell Funeral Home, 276 Pawtucket St., Lowell.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Charles J. Anton Charitable Foundation, 500 Clark Road, Tewksbury; the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church; or to the Transfiguration Greek Orthodox Church.

EPA Changes

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has proposed changes in its water quality standards regulation which will give states more flexibility in tailoring the standards to specific uses and conditions of their waterways.

Water quality standards are set by the states and define the uses of a water body and the quality of water necessary to protect those uses. EPA must approve the standards set by the states. The standards provide one of the basis for regulating pollutants under the Clean Water Act.

Teacher, Bus Driver Resign

The school committee on Dec. 14 accepted the resignations of a teacher and a bus contractor for the Andover School Department, with combined service to the town totalling 25 years.

Ellen Hughes, a reading teacher at Doherty Junior High, employed as a teacher in Andover since September, 1970, resigned effective Nov. 17 for personal reasons.

Charles R. Kent, a bus contractor since 1969, also resigned for personal reasons, effective Dec. 31.

In other personnel action, the committee appointed the following to coaching positions for the winter season: W. Hixon, head boys basketball, high school, $2838; W. Vickers, J.V. boys basketball, high school, $1986; G. Alsup, head winter track, high school, $1986; A. Iworsley, assistant winter track, high school, $1489; S. Sirolis, boys gymnastics, high school, $1534; P. Barrett, girls gymnastics, high school, $1308; P. Grogan, head boys hockey, high school, $1986; M. Murnane, J.V. hockey, high school, $913; G. Shimmel, head ski, high school, $1033; J. Hurley, girls freshmen basketball, Doherty Junior High, $1489; R. Hatem, boys freshmen basketball, Doherty Junior High, $1489; G. Sullivan, boys freshmen basketball, West Junior High, $1489; M. Santagati, cheerleader, West Junior High, $213.

The following were appointed to positions under the gifted and talented program: Gary Hendrickson, Doherty Junior High, program leader and liaison person, $350 stipend; John Givens, Doherty Junior High, program leader, $250 stipend; Leo Lafond, Doherty Junior High, program leader, $250 stipend; Nora Harrison, West Junior High, program leader and liaison leader, $350 stipend; Lorraine Farrell, West Junior High, program leader, $250 stipend; Douglas Halsted, West Junior High, program leader, $250 stipend.

The committee approved the recall of Carol Buchanan, a tenured teacher at the Sanborn School, grade five. She has been recalled starting Dec. 9 for the remainder of the school year to fill a vacancy.

The following extensions of recall of tenured teachers were approved: Susan Infantine, West Elementary, grade three, recalled for the period September through mid-year semester break in January, 1983, as a replacement for M. Hervol during her absence. The recall will be extended through June, 1983, as a replacement for K. Iworsley (maternity leave); Dolores Pelc, Bancroft School, grade three, recalled for the period September through the mid-year semester break in January, 1983, as a replacement for E. Coltin during her child-rearing leave of absence. The recall will be extended through June, 1983, since E. Coltin has requested an extension of her leave.

The committee also granted an extension of recall of an instructional aide. Judith Malakoff, an aide at the South School, 20 hours/week, was recalled for the period September through December, 1982, as a replacement for Mrs. Hardcastle during her leave of absence. The recall will be extended through the end of the current school year, since Mrs. Hardcastle has requested a leave extension.

Susan McLellan, a West Junior High math teacher (Bachelor's Step 6, based on salary of $16,492), was granted an extension of contract. She was re-elected for the period September, 1982, until the mid-year semester break in January, 1983, as a replacement for J. Lakow during her child-rearing leave of absence. Ms. McLellan's re-election will be extended through the end of the school year, since Ms. Lakow has requested an extension of her leave.

Norman Forsberg, of Andover, was appointed high school hall monitor (35 hours/week, $4.12 per hour) effective Dec. 15 and retroactive to Nov. 17. He will replace M. Hershon, who resigned.

Bruce Dewire was appointed student council advisor at the West Junior High ($907).

Kathleen Kelly was recalled as a West Elementary teacher aide and was appointed a full-time noon hour supervisor. The action is effective Dec. 15 and retroactive to Nov. 29 ($3.80 per hour plus $6.14 as noon-hour supervisor).

The following were granted leaves of absence:

Ethel Coltin — Elementary teacher. She has been a teacher in Andover since September, 1970, and is currently on a child-rearing leave of absence extending from April, 1982 until the mid-year semester break of this school-year. Her leave was extended through the end of the year.

Barbara Hardcastle — South School instructional aide. She has been an aide since September, 1979, and is currently on a leave of absence from September, 1982, through December, because of family illness. Her leave was extended through the end of the year.

JoAnn Lakow — West Junior High math teacher. She has been a member of the school department since September, 1978, and is currently on a child-rearing leave of absence for the first semester of this school year. Her leave was extended for the rest of the school year.

Moir Reed — West Junior High special needs instructional aide. She has been an aide since March, 1978 and was granted an unpaid leave for personal reasons, effective Nov. 30 through Jan. 14, 1983.

Selectmen Order Dog Destroyed And A Second Canine Impounded

After judging that it is a vicious dog, the selectmen have ordered a Lovejoy Road Doberman destroyed, and have ordered a second dog impounded until outstanding fines for leash law and licensing violations totaling $290 have been paid.

The board Monday night voted four-zero, with William Dalton abstaining, to order a Doberman belonging to Richard O'Connell of Lovejoy Road "humanely euthanized" at the end of a ten-day appeal period. They also ordered a German Shepard belonging to O'Connell impounded until outstanding fines have been paid.

The O'Connell dogs were charged with attacking and killing a neighbor's miniature beagle last month. During a public hearing last week, Charles Poor of Landau Lane told the selectmen his beagle was unleashed and playing with one of his children in front of the Garland home on Landau Lane at the time of the attack.

Last week the selectmen ordered the two dogs impounded until they decided on further action. Monday night, however, the dogs' owner indicated that he had taken them out of town. O'Connell added that the selectmen must have a court order for the impounding, calling for "due process" of law.

O'Connell called the selectmen's action "unconstitutional. You are not the law," he told the board. "We shall have due process."

As the hearing continued Monday night, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony read a letter from James Garland, who said he witnessed the attack at about 3:30 p.m. Nov. 18. He wrote that the dogs were "un-

Channel Awarded Contract To Begin Reuse Work

By Sue Aucella Deacon

An Andover firm may have the inside track on the East Junior High reuse project recently approved by special town meeting, the town manager indicated Monday night.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony asked the selectmen for authorization to enter into a temporary contract with Channel Building of Andover to heat the two junior high school wings and begin some interior work.

The board obliged with a four-zero vote giving Mahony that authorization, with William Dalton abstaining.

Mahony explained that Peabody Construction of Braintree, contractor for And-over's current school building project, is still in the running. He said there will be no final contract for completing the entire project until the developer has obtained financing.

"If Channel does the (heating) work and can't come up with the bond, we're free to go somewhere else," he told the board. And if the town decides not to choose Channel, he added, it will simply pay for the work completed.

The manager said he would continue discussing the project with both "very competent builders" to obtain the greatest savings for the town.

Candidate Protests Removal Of Sign

A candidate for the Board of Selectmen Monday night protested to the selectmen that town officials had removed a political sign from his property without his knowledge or permission.

Candidate Kenneth Buck of Summer Street said a "little old sign" reading "Ken Buck, Selectman" had been removed from his front lawn last Tuesday morning. He said he had received "no verbal or written communication to remove the sign."

He said Building Inspector Salvatore DeSalvo came to his home Tuesday afternoon with a letter explaining that he had been directed to remove the sign.

Buck asked the board to explain why the sign was removed, adding, "What right has anyone to come on anyone's property and take away a sign?"

DeSalvo told the selectmen that all temporary signs — like permanent signs — require permits and must comply with Andover zoning bylaws, which restrict the size of signs, particularly in a residential district.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said he instructed DeSalvo to remove the sign because it was "illegal." He said he did not notify Buck first because the alternative was to issue him a summons with a $100 fine.

"I was doing you a favor," Mahony told Buck. "I won't do you any more favors."

When the candidate questioned political signs used downtown during the recent election, Town Clerk Elden Salter said he had issued some warnings about signs on vans, which are not allowed

'Tis The Season

Keeping in the spirit of the season, it seems fitting to take a moment to issue some complimentary remarks about Andover's young people.

The young people of the community oft-times get blamed for some of the ills of society, and, for the most part when there are youth-related problems the blame is placed on the majority, when, in actuality, it is but a few who are responsible for the problems.

Andover should be proud of the many young people whose good deeds and exemplary work for the most part go unnoticed.

As an example, a Doherty Junior High youngster, whose efforts and quick action may have saved a man's life, only came to light through a column written by students at the school.

Caelin Graber was en route home from classes recently when she saw a man collapse on a porch on Bartlet Street. She immediately dashed back to the school office and sought help for the victim, which resulted in summoning the ambulance to provide medical assistance and take the victim to the hospital.

And, dotting our pages these past few weeks have been pictures and stories about efforts of other youngsters in Andover.

Students at the Sanborn School at Thanksgiving time, gathered canned goods and presented them to senior citizens and shut-ins, an annual effort of youngsters at that school.

Other school groups have visited nursing homes, assisting patients in passing the time of day or helping in some other way.

In downtown Andover Friday night, church and school choral groups gathered and performed for the entertainment of those attending Family Night.

In the sports field, Andover High varsity teams have completed their fall programs and many participants have been chosen for All-Star teams. And, those that weren't so honored still made a contribution which produced an entertaining and rewarding year for football, soccer, cross-country, volleyball, field hockey and swimming teams carrying the Andover banner.

Members of the band, who spend countless hours in rehearsal, were also rewarded recently at an annual banquet conducted by the Band Parents.

During this particular season of the year, there will be continued examples of young people making that extra effort to contribute to their community, or assist in programs at their school or church.

And, it provides an opportunity for us to take this opportunity to salute their efforts.

Thanks!

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

On behalf of the Andover Council on Aging, we wish to thank the many senior citizens who attended the Nov. 29 Andover Special Town Meeting to support the East Junior High School Reuse Project.

Special thanks are also extended to the people who volunteered to drive senior citizens home after the Town Meeting. Also, thanks to Mary LaCouture, who voluntarily drove 37 people to the Town Meeting in the Council on Aging van.

Pediculosis Problem

To Mr. Everett Penney, Director Of Public Health:

As a mother of a child who has been sent home three times because of pediculosis, I was appalled to read the article in the Andover TOWNSMAN claiming that "local schools are currently experiencing no problems with head lice." Although I can not speak for the other schools, I can assure you that South School is experiencing a very serious problem. Numbers have been sent home over the past three months. Also, as I understand it, pediculosis is particularly rampant this year both within this state and within neighboring states.

The Board of Health's new rule on readmittance of the infested child is a good first step to controlling the problem, but it is very late in coming. Also, it places the burden and financial responsibility entirely on the parents while closing its eyes to the possibility that the common breeding ground for the infestation is the schools. Too often unknowledgeable parents associate head lice with uncleanness and choose to ignore the problem. It would seem to me that while denying a problem within the schools, the Board of Health is doing the same thing.

By vacuuming, spraying, washing bedding and clothes and spending over eight hours total picking nits out of my child's hair, I feel I have shown responsibility towards the problem and have taken every precaution to avoid its recurrence. But what good are my efforts when the schools have delayed admitting publicly to the problem? Parents should have been notified at the first sign of head lice, educated on its transmittance and asked to cooperate by checking their children at home. The schools should also have taken action immediately to disinfect the buildings in the event that the lice was entrapped within the rugs. In fact, the general appearance of the building is an embarrassment and with jackets and hats scattered about the corridors, the little critters are probably having a "hopping" good time.

Yes, Mr. Penny, there is a problem in our schools and it is not only head lice, but communications. As I sit here gagging on the fumes of Lysol spray, listening to the

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Hurry down to The Haven this afternoon for the monthly meeting of The Haven Associates at 2 p.m. There is business to conduct, a couple of good movies to entertain you and some delicious refreshments. Come right on down.

The Art History program Monday, Dec. 20, is entitled "The Christmas Story in Art" and the narrative has musical accompaniment. It promises to be a delight you won't want to miss. Monday, Dec. 20, at 2 p.m.

Next Wednesday Bancroft School is holding a Christmas Open House and Carol Sing, to which Andover's senior citizens are invited. The program begins at 9:30 a.m. There will be refreshments. Do go and enjoy the love and song of the children.

Wednesday, Dec. 22, at 9:30 a.m.

On Thursday, Dec. 23, there will be a special holiday Bingo at The Haven at 1:45 p.m. There will be hot chocolate and other refreshments as well as a special collection of prizes.

The center and all town offices will be closed Friday, Dec. 24, and Friday, Dec. 31.

Tickets for The Haven's New Year's luncheon party Thursday, Dec. 30, are on sale at the senior center. For $4.50 you'll have chicken a la king in patty shells, salad, vegetables and dessert. There will be a band for your dancing and listening pleasure. Get your tickets now for the number is limited.

And while you're down at the center, you might sign up for the performance of "Evita" Jan. 19—a matinee. Tickets are $35 each for choice orchestra seats and transportation to and from the theater. If your children or family members ask what you'd like for Christmas, why not suggest a ticket to "Evita." They can purchase them at The Haven for your Christmas present. Or why not treat yourself?

The last hot lunch of the year will be served Dec. 23 and will resume on Monday, Jan. 3.

The Haven Singers have cancelled all their activities for the month of December due to the death of Charles Robertson.

Critical Imbalance, Safety Problems Noted In Report

By John P. Sawyer

The reduction of female physical education instructors in Andover's secondary-level schools has created a "critical imbalance" and led to "potential safety problems," according to Athletic Director Richard Swift.

In a physical education program report for the school committee, Swift noted Reduction In Force (RIF) has eliminated four female staff positions.

He explained, "Over the last few years, a critical imbalance has been created by the reduction of female physical education instructors at the secondary level. With seven males and 3.4 females, female role models as well as duties such as lockerroom supervision, etc. fall more heavily upon them.

"Potential safety problems are arising due to the lack of female staff."

He told the school committee Tuesday night that the situation should be looked at "very, very carefully."

Swift's program report recognizes the success of physical education — for example, the program continues to develop students who score significantly above national norms in fitness and activity knowledge, and interscholastic teams continue to have large student participation.

Lack of female staff, however, is just one of many problems that face the physical education program.

Besides a projected budget deficit situation, Swift noted students at the new Doherty Junior High still attend physical education classes at Phillips Academy.

Schools Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert noted it could take as long as March before students can use facilities in their own school.

High student-teacher ratios, said Swift, have impacted physical education.

Other problems mentioned in the program report include:

INVENTORY of equipment is wearing out.

SUPERVISION by the program advisor for physical education has been irregular because of increased duties related to interscholastic athletics, coordinating student physical exams, user fee implementation.

Rheumatic Fever

Rheumatic fever is an inflammation that may affect the heart, joints, brain or skin. It is almost always the result of a strep throat infection and is accompanied by fever. The most serious result of rheumatic fever is damage to the heart valves. However, heart damage is not an inevitable result of rheumatic fever. The risk of rheumatic fever can be decreased by prompt medical treatment of strep throat infections. Anyone who has been a victim of the disease has an increased risk of recurrence, which can be diminished by long-term treatment with antibiotics. Contact your local American Heart Association for more information.

Andover Structures Officially Listed In National Register

Three-hundred and fifty-nine additional Andover structures have been officially listed in the National Register of Historic Places, culminating a three-year project by the Andover Historical Commission.

These National Register designations were made under a new Multiple Resource program, which studies community architecture as it relates to local history.

"I would describe the project as summarizing the history of Andover as seen through its architecture," explained Marsha Rooney, of the Andover Historical Commission, project director for the survey and nomination.

She said the new listings will give the commission a focus on which to concentrate preservation efforts. Rooney noted Andover residents live here because of the quality of life in this town, and residents should take pride in having these new structures placed in the National Register.

Most of the 359 structures are concentrated in six districts — Academy, Village Industrial, Ballardvale, Central Street,

Main Street/Locke Street, West Parish Center. Each district played a significant role in Andover's growth or economy, and the character of each district as a whole is as equally significant as the individual buildings within the districts.

Forty-two separate structures, outside of the six districts, were also considered noteworthy for their occupants or architecture and have also been listed in the National Register.

Under Rooney's supervision, preservation planner Wendy Frontiero was contracted in 1980. A Preservation Plan for the town and then the National Register Multiple Resource Nomination were prepared. The nomination form included structural information, property owner lists and summaries of Andover's historical and architectural development from the 1640's to the present.

Project funding came from a Massachusetts Historical Commission grant, a special town article, volunteer hours and office space given by the Andover Historical Commission. The 359 structures were officially listed in the National Register on Oct. 7, 1982.

Andover now has 636 properties in the National Register. The Benjamin Abbot house, 9 Andover St., was named in 1975. The Shawsheen Village district (276 structures) was listed in 1979.

Listing in the Register signifies that an area or structure is important to the history of the community, state or nation; gives owners of income-producing properties certain federal tax incentives for renovation and disincentives for demolition; provides limited protection from adverse affects by federally-involved projects.

Copies of the 1976 Historic Structures Survey (15 loose-leaf volumes) and the 1980 National Register Nomination and Preservation Plan (one volume) are on library shelves of the Andover Historical Society, Memorial Hall Library, Phillips Academy's Oliver Wendell Holmes Library and the Andover Department of Community Development and Planning.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

Perhaps the most extraordinary time-saving appliance to be introduced to the kitchen in recent years is the microwave oven. It cooks food by using electromagnetic waves generated from a magnetron tube. As the waves pass through the glass, plastic or paper containers into the food, the moisture molecules vibrate so fast as to create friction which cooks the food with its heat energy. Microwave ovens come in countertop models, built-in units or as complete ranges with both conventional and microwave units. All meet stringent safety requirements. Set aside room in your kitchen plans to accommodate your choice of microwave ovens.

Microwave ovens are changing the American family's lifestyle. Making room for new appliances in your kitchen may require more than moving some things around. For ideas call WINDSOR KITCHENS at 372-3444 or visits us in Ward Hill at 1181 Boston Rd. ## Untested Warrior Hoopsters Open Friday With Lexington

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High basketball team launches what should be a very interesting 1982-83 season tomorrow night at the Dunn Gymnasium, tapping off against strong non-league foe, Lexington High.

The JV prelim is slated for 6 p.m. with the varsity to follow at approximately 7:30 p.m.

"This year we have probably the most inexperienced varsity club since 1974," offered veteran Coach Wil Hixon, who begins his 22nd season at the Golden Warriors' helm. "It's basically an untested group, almost a no-name club because we were dominated for the past two years by the seniors who departed through graduation last June."

That extremely talented quartet, who along with returning veteran E.J. Perry formed the nucleus last winter, consisted of Ted Kelley, Mike White, Carmen Scarpa and Bill Caselden.

When those four were juniors (Perry as sixth man), they joined Kip Jones (now at Bentley College) in dominating the Merrimack Valley Conference, as AHS swept to the league title and went undefeated (22-0) until it ran headlong into Patrick Ewing and his Cambridge Rindge & Latin teammates in the outstanding Eastern Mass. Division I North championship game (58-50 CRL win after Andover led much of the way).

Last year Perry joined the starting lineup as the Golden Warriors tied for second place in the MVC (deadlocked with Chelmsford one game behind Lawrence Central), finishing 14-2 in the league and 17-3 overall.

Andover was stunned in the opening round of the tournament, dropping a pulsating 65-63 decision to upstart Waltham High which continued on to the Division I title game.

Kelley has since moved on to Boston College, where he is seeing some varsity time for the powerful Eagles as a freshman, while Scarpa is playing at Harvard University, White at Amherst College and Caselden is enrolled at the University of Lowell.

Only two Golden Warrior players received considerable varsity exposure last year, senior guards Perry (5'9") and Tom Argiropoulos (6'0").

Perry was the second high scorer for AHS last year, averaging ell into double figures as he trailed only Kelley in total points.

Argiropoulos was the sixth man, exhibiting a refreshing brand of perpetual motion hustle that sparked several important victories including a come-from-behind Greater-Lawrence Christmas Tournament semifinal round overtime triumph over surprisingly pesky Salem, N.H. High.

Five other seniors, who served as varsity

Y Swimmers Top Melrose

The Andover-North Andover YMCA boys swim team took on the Melrose Y team last Saturday and came out ahead in their Division I debut, taking three classes.

In Class A Gregg Morava, Dave Bates, Dan Paradis and Al Dumas won the 200 yard medley relay in 1:52.3, a new team and pool record. Morava was second in the 200 yard freestyle and third in the 100 yard butterfly.

Bates was a triple winner, adding first in the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:04.51 and the 100 yard freestyle in :54.77, both new team and pool records. Paradis added a third in the 50 free.

Dumas, also a triple winner, took the 50 free in :24.1 (a new team and pool record) and the 100 yard backstroke in 1:05.

Bob Pekarski also put a new team record on the books going 1:02.0 for the 100 yard butterfly. He was third in the 200 free and swam on the winning 400 yard freestyle relay with Rich Napolitano, Ted Anderson, third in the 500 free and 100 back, and Tom Jurgen, second in the 50 free and third in the 200 yard I.M.

Paul Gosselin took first in the diving competition and Doug Wayland finished third in the 100 yard breaststroke as Andover defeated Melrose 58-33.

Al Frizelle led in Class B, winning the 100 butterfly, placing second in the 50 free and swimming the winning 200 yard free relay with Scott Bates, third in the 100 free, Brian Cronin, second in the 100 yard breaststroke and third in the 200 I.M., and David Flanders, third in the 500 free and 100 fly. Chris Wayland added second place points in the 200 free. Andy LeBovidge was third in the 100 back.

In Class C Tom Graham was a triple winner taking the 200 free and 50 yard breaststroke and swimming on the winning 200 yard freestyle with Brett Duggan, Vinnie Bates and J.B. Burgess who captured the diving competition and was second in the 50 yard breaststroke.

David Inskeep was second in the 50 back and third in the 50 fly, while Mark Jurgen was third in the 100 free.

Chris Hart, Dan Lennon and Matt MacVicar were triple winners in Class D. Hart won the 100 I.M. and 100 free and Lennon was first in the 50 fly and backstroke while MacVicar took the diving and 50 yard breaststroke. They teamed with Paul Mitchell, second in the 100 free and third in the 50 back, to win the 200 yard medley relay.

The victorious freestyle relay was composed of Robbie Crane, third in the 50 yard breaststroke, Craig Deranian, Sean Herlihy, second in the 50 back, and Brad Cronin, third in the 50 free. Andover won Class D 52-16.

Matt Jennings was a triple winner in Class E, winning the 100 I.M. and 25 yard backstroke and swam on the first place free relay with Andre Koerckel, third in the 25 yard back and 25 yard breaststroke events. Adam Galaburda, first in the 50 free, and Peter Master, first in the 25 yard free and second in the 25 yard back.

Ricky Redman, Jamie Estabrooks, Johnny Dwight and Brian Lott won the 100 yard medley relay. Estabrooks also took the 25 yard breaststroke while Dwight captured the 25 yard fly and was second in the 50 yard free. Adam Robb was third in the 25 yard free-style.

The ANA swim team will compete the weekend of Jan. 7-8. The boys will travel to Medford High School to meet Malden-Medford while the girls play host to the Wahooks of the Lawrence Y at 1 p.m. at the Haverhill Street building. The public is invited.

West Parish Begins With Win

By Rick Harrison

Three-time defending champ West Parish A, St. Robert's B and St. Augustine's B were all winners last week as the Intermediate (10-12 years) Gold Division of the Andover Church Basketball League launched its 1982-83 season with a tripleheader at the West Elementary School gym.

West A, which has featured almost a completely different cast of characters in each of the last three championship seasons, opened with a hard-fought 38-29 victory over Christ Church.

For West A, which went undefeated last winter, the victory was the 16th straight over a three-year span. The champs have a 31-3 record overall since that time.

In a pair of intra-church showdowns, St. Robert's B roared from behind in the final quarter to edge St. Robert's A 22-20, and St. Augustine's B slapped St. Augustine's A 25-8.

St. Robert's B, 22-20

A basket by Massaro tied the game with 90 seconds left in the fourth period, and then single free throws by Massaro and Josh Malitsky in the closing minute enabled St. Robert's B to rally for its victory.

The game was nip and tuck from start to finish as St. Robert's A inched ahead 6-4 after one quarter and the teams were even 12-12 at halftime. The A crew jumped ahead 17-14 after three quarters, setting the stage for the final period come-back by the B squad.

Eight different players scored points for the balanced winners with Malitsky netting six points and Mike Faraci adding four to spark the offense.

Massaro contributed his three clutch points, and solo buckets were notched by Jim Murphy, Jim Spinelli, Paul DeMarco and Jerome Guerard.

Brendan McGrail's free throw completed the St. Robert's B attack, while strong defensive efforts were contributed by Brad Reghitto and Mike Smith.

Danny Fay, who did all his scoring in the first half, shared game-high honors for St. Robert's A with six points.

Steve and Greg DeVoir pocketed five apiece and Tom Sheehan's lone fieldgoal came in the fourth quarter, giving the A-team its final lead at 20-18 with approximately two minutes left.

Matt Jarek added a basket while Eric Green, Tracy Danner and Jeff Masse also played well.

West Parish A, 38-29

West Parish A broke out to a quick 11-1 first period lead, extended its advantage to as many as 19 points in the third quarter and then withstood a late game charge by Christ Church to chalk up its triumph.

Matt Gibson and Kevin Henderson led the way as West Parish A took a 23-11 halftime lead. Dave Vickers scored a pair of buckets as the rivals traded third period point, and then six more points by Henderson in the fourth stanza offset a suddenly-explosive C-C charge led by Mark Tucker and Dave Lewis.

Gibson emerged as game-high marksman with 17 points, while Henderson also hit double figures with 12 points.

Vickers chipped in six points, Pat Kelley had a pretty breakaway basket off a perfect one-bounce feed from Gibson and Dave Cairns swished a free throw.

Also playing well for the winners were Chris Lane, Craig Costanzo, Stefan Kelly, Keith Abernathy and Chris Kew.

Mark Tucker pumped through 16 points for Christ Church, John Russell and Lewis added six apiece and Matt Corbett converted a third quarter free throw.

Other C-C hustlers included Eric Williams, John Knowles, Stef Tomlinson and Matt Abernathy.

St. Augustine's B, 25-8

St. Augustine's B bolted to an 8-0 first quarter lead and was never headed thereafter enroute to its victory over St. Augustine's A.

Mike Lebreck, Jose Guerra, Mark Russell and Glenn Fortin all scored baskets in the first period and the B-team defense remained strong throughout the entire contest.

Russell finished as top scorer with 12 points, followed by Lebreck with 4, Matt Dufresne and Fortin 3 apiece, Guerra 2 and Craig Knight a free throw.

Pacing the St. Augustine's A counter-attack with single fieldgoals were Kyle Murphy, Patt Finn, Rob Finneran and Andy Hamel.

Also playing well for the A crew were John and Brian Davies, Ryan Murphy and Peter Caruso.

A YBL Intermediate Division

The Intermediate Division of the Andover Youth Basketball League found Boston College gunning down North Carolina 29-14, Dartmouth running past Villanova 33-19 and Harvard outlasting Holy Cross 27-16.

In the B.C. win Matt Gibson was successful on eight field goals and four foul shots for a total of 20 points. Peter Kannam, who had nine points, played an outstanding game for BC and Neil Fater, Andy Taylor and Paul Morello played a good defensive game. Scott Van Fossen was outstanding for North Carolina as he collected numerous rebounds in addition to scoring six points and Wayne Henderson, Bill Morris and Scott Wallace were defensive stand-outs.

In the Dartmouth-Villanova game, seven players scored for the winners. Steve Mencis scored 8, Joey Tavilla and Jeff Manning each scored 6, Steve Napolitano got 5, Barry Connors got 4 and Brendon McCue and David Schwind each scored 2 in an impressive team effort. Michael DeMartino and David Pray were outstanding defensively.

Playing a very strong game for Villanova were Ed Bryliczyk with 8 points, Bart Kalkstein with 2 points and numerous rebounds, Brenda Baker with 5 points and a couple of steals, Erin McCloskey with a rebound and follow-up basket for 2 points and Josh Yezerski with 2 points.

The third game of the evening saw a defensive battle with Harvard pulling away at the end to win 27-16. High jumping Mark Russell grabbed most of the rebounds and scored 9 points, Matt Perry and Doug Howes each scored 6 points, Steve Howes got 4 points, Jon Pratt scored 2 points. Barry Finegold, Bill Henderson and David Johnson all played good defense.

John Russell of the aggressive Holy Cross team scored 6 points, Kurt Brucato sank 1 fieldgoal and 3 foul shots for 5 points and Aleke Msumba played a strong defensive game, along with a number of rebounds. Jeff Hurley and Chad Gomes both had good floor games.

NO OTHER RANGE HAS AS MUCH RANGE.

No matter how accomplished a cook you are, there is one inescapable fact you must face. If your range has its limitations, you too will have limitations.

There is, however, one way to avoid such a fate: buy a Jenn-Air.

The engineers at Jenn-Air have designed such an incredibly versatile cooking system that the culinary possibilities are almost endless.

For instance, with our cooktop grill you can have all the tasty advantages of outdoor grilling, indoors. (Jenn-Air invented the surface ventilation system that vents smoke and odors direct to the outside, without the need of an overhead hood.)

With the Jenn-Air Dual Use Convection Oven, you can convert from a regular, radiant oven to a convection cooker at the twist of a dial. In this mode hot, circulating air cooks the most tender and juicy meats you've ever tasted.

And up to 50% faster. (If you wish, we also offer a separate microwave oven.) To allow your imagination even freer reign, we've created a mind boggling array of accessories. Like a griddle, a rotisserie, a shish-kebab and a french frier/cooker.

Academy In Weekend Tournament

Eight of the top prep school hockey teams in New England and Canada will compete in the 17th annual Marr Tournament on the weekend of Dec. 17-19.

The tournament will begin Friday at Noble

Specialist

Airman Gary T. Shore, son of Beverly A. Wells, 40 Martian Avenue, North Andover, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force security police specialist course at Lackland Air Force Base, TX.

Graduates of the course studied security and law enforcement and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Shore will now serve at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

and Greenough School in Dedham, continue Saturday at Milton Academy and wind up at Nobles on Sunday with consolation and championship games.

Competition will be split into two divisions. The Harding division will include teams from Nobles, Westminster School, Kent School and Tabor Academy. Participants in the Owen division will be Milton Academy, Phillips Academy, Deerfield Academy and Upper Canada College of Toronto. Winners and second-place finishers in each division will meet in the championship and consolation games.

The tournament, named after former Milton Academy hockey coach, Richard "Lefty" Marr, annually attracts college hockey coaches from throughout the east and mid-west, scouting potential future scholar-athletes for their teams.

Schoolboy hockey fans consider this competition the 'tournament of tournaments.' Players from previous tournaments are competing for colleges throughout the country.

Co-directors are Coach Dick Flood, Jr., of Nobles and Coach Clark "Chuck" Duncan of Milton Academy.

Andover Hockey Association

Pee wee A Wilmington League Andover 4 - Acton 1

Andover played three strong periods in Wilmington and came up winners. Defense and goaltending were outstanding. Johnny Gilmartin, Peter Donegian, Brent Raftery and Tommy Tormey kept Acton's offense shut off for most of the game. Goalie James Berberian handled what they didn't and handled it well. He snuffed two breakaways in the first period that seemed to ignite the offense. Andover broke on top halfway through the period when Chris McNally sent the puck to Patrick Breen behind Acton's net. Breen centered the puck to Hugh Maginnis who blasted it by their goalie and at the end of their period Andover led by one goal.

Second period action was similar. Andover had the better of the play, but Acton finally got on the board on a well-executed 3-on-2 and a good finishing shot. At the end of two, the game was tied at one apiece.

In the third period, Andover decided they wanted to win and took control. On the opening faceoff, Gilmartin got the puck to Breen who sent it to McNally. McNally faked the pass and as the Acton goalie moved, put it between his legs. After that, Andover never looked back. Twenty seconds later, Donegian got the puck to Breen (for his third assist) who again centered the puck to Maginnis who snapped it by the goalie. Play went back and forth, but Andover dominated. They tallied in the final minute when Gilmartin got the puck to Robert Stoltz who passed to Pothier who deflected it off the goalie's skate into the net. Andover outshot Acton 22-13 and won 4-1. In all, this was Andover's strongest three periods of hockey to date.

Andover 3 - Manchester 1

Andover had a relatively easy game in Wilmington, characterized by excellent defensive play and goaltending. Manchester broke on top when they scored on the first shift on a deflection off of an Andover player. From that point on, it was evident that Andover would take control. The defensive play of Joey Lyons, John Gilmartin, Tommy Tormey and Peter Donegian shut down Manchester's offense for the rest of the game. Manchester had some good scoring opportunities, but goalie James Berberian snuffed them all. Andover simply outskated Manchester. However, the Manchester goalie was also having a good night and continually kept the puck out of the net. At the end of the first period Manchester led 1-0.

Second period action was more of the same. Finally, Andover tied the score when Matt Pothier dropped a pass to Robert Stoltz who swung from the left wing board to the slot and fired a hard, low shot by the Manchester goalie. Thirty seconds later Andover broke on top to stay. Pat Breen came in on the goalie, drew him right, slid the puck to Chris McNally who fired it in the vacated area. Andover put continuous pressure on, but couldn't get an insurance goal, and the period ended with Andover ahead 2-1.

The third period was made easier for Andover. Manchester committed seven penalties. Andover got the insurance goal when Lyons broke the puck out of the zone to Doug Bleszinski. Bleszinski and Andy Weiner broke into Manchester's zone on a 2-on-1. Bleszinski drew the defenseman and slid the puck to Weiner who beat the goalie

Junior Church League Action

By She Livermore

The Andover Church Junior Basketball League played its first games of the season last week. There are 12 teams in competition and games are played at Sanborn and Bancroft schools on Monday nights.

St. Robert's C 17

St. Robert's D 6

The game was pretty even at the halfway point with St. Robert's C ahead by only two points. In the third quarter, however, they erupted with nine points and eventually won a 17-6 victory over the D line-up.

Ryan Cassily, Keith Selvitelli and Mike Pettoruto each contributed four points to the victory; Jeff Morneau tossed in three charity shots in the pivotal third quarter and Adam Ruma added a solo.

Peter Martel, Dan Griffin and Pete Carmanis tossed in a basket apiece for St. Robert's D.

Players turning in fine performances were Patrick Hegarty, Wayne Mattola and Chris Shea for St. Robert's C, as well as Ryan Beal and Samantha Massaro for St. Robert's D.

St. Augustine's B 16

Temple Emanuel 6

St. Augustine's were scoreless until the second quarter when they pumped in eight points to give them an 8-2 lead. With four points in the last two quarters, they won a 16-6 victory over Temple Emanuel.

Jeff Hurley led the scoring for the victors with 10 points, John Bihop added 4 and John Gabriel made 2 charity shots count.

Mike Taylor swished in four points for Temple Emanuel and Sam Gross chipped in a single.

Players turning in fine performances were Steven Flagg, Tom Torrisi and Mike Plati for St. Augustine's as well as Jeff Uchin, Eric Greenstein and Gary Rollins for Temple Emanuel.

A.Y.B.L. Senior Division

In the second week of action in the Andover Youth Basketball League, the Supersonics overcame an 8-5 first period deficit to hand the Bucks their first loss 41-22. The Celtics led the Knicks by only five after three periods but broke the game open in the fourth period to win 41-23. The 76ers won their second game 59-28, despite a strong Laker 14-point fourth period.

Jeff Poor was the Sonics leading scorer with 21, followed by Chris Concemi 8, Chris Poor 5, Rich Napolitano, Larry Middleton and Jon Yezerki 2 each. Rich Lafond tossed in a foul shot and played well as did Jim Pfeiffer. For the outmanned Bucks, Scott Wilkins tallied 9, Jamey Clarke 6, Tim Higgins 5, and Brian Gibson 2. Pat Burns played a strong defensive game.

In the second game Doug Rotondi led the Celtics with 17, followed by Mark Carroll 10, Sean Duffy 7, Scott Powers 4, and Chris Koch and Ray Cunningham 2. Jim Tacy and Matt McKinnon did much of the ball handling setting up the scorers. For the hustling Knicks Paul Oshan was high with 8, Mike DiMeo had 6, Jim Marocco 4, Eric Goodman and Greg Kinsky 2 each and Mike O'Connell a foul shot. Jim Flowers and Chris Nelson were strong off the boards.

Tim Perry had a hot hand again for the winning sixers with 25, Joe Hurley had 9, John Twomey 8, John Perry and Rajiv Sheel 6 each, Damon Dyer 3 and Jim Hallice 2. Nick Lembo led a Laker fourth period surge with eight of his total of 14 points. Other scorers were Mike Burke 6, Paul Valcourt 4, Jon Daly 2, and Dave Noyes 2. Jay Trepanier, Eric Shannon and Tim Minor all paid hustling games for the Lakers.

Senior Church League Begins Play

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's A, West Parish, Christ Church, St. Augustine's B and St. Robert's B produced victories last weekend as the Senior Division (13-15 years) of the Andover Church Basketball League opened play at the West Junior High gym.

St. Robert's A trimmed South Church 34-21, West Parish slapped St. Augustine's A 46-20, Christ Church dumped St. Robert's C 42-33, St. Augustine's B handled Ballardvale United, and St. Robert's B outlasted Temple Emanuel 40-37.

St. Robert's A, 34-21

There were few mysteries in this game as St. Robert's A jumped to a 15-8 first quarter lead and built the advantage to 30-13 after three periods.

Larry Middleton shared game-high scoring honors with 10 points, six of them in the opening period, while John Perry contributed 8 points and Ed Kupa netted his 6 in the opening half.

Steve Veilleux popped through four points on a brace of second quarter fieldgoals and adding two points apiece were Charlie Sheehan, Sean Melia and John Davis.

Becky Ellispaced the South attack with 10 points, eight of them in the final half, while Bob Hendry pocketed 5 points, Dave Wade 3 and Robbie Schmidt 3.

West Parish, 46-20

Nine different players took part in the scoring for West Parish, which galloped to a commanding 21-2 first-quarter advantage and coasted from there.

Rich Dunn, Leo Gravell, Mike Lane and Steve Redgate combined talents as they netted all 21 first period points for WP.

Steve Gemmell and Redgate shared the scoring honors for the winners with 8 points apiece, Lane added 7, Dunn 6 and Gravell 6.

Nick Coon popped through 4 points, Scott Kelley swished 3 free throws, and single buckets were scored by Jeff Kennedy and Tom Rossback.

Lane and Gravell had several nice steals while Dunn, Rossback, Redgate and Kennedy did yeoman duty off the boards.

Also playing well for West Parish were Eric and Kurt Nickerson, Chris Abell, Bill O'Brien and Kurt Burzlaff.

Paul Davies was game-high scorer for St. Augustine's A with 9 points, Andy Zompa added 8 and Tom Hollenbeck 3.

Intermediate Teams Underway

Ballardvale A, St. Robert's F, South A, St. Robert's E, West Parish B and Ballardvale B all registered victories as the Intermediate Blue Division of the Andover Church Basketball League opened its season last week.

Ballardvale A dumped St. Augustine's C 12-2, St. Robert's F trimmed Christ B 23-10, South A stopped St. Robert's C 40-28, St. Robert's E overpowered South B 23-5, West Parish B downed St. Augustine's D 23-13, and Ballardvale B nudged St. Robert's D 22-21.

Ballardvale A, 12-2

Mike Mooney led all scorers with six points as Ballardvale United A silenced a young St. Augustine's C crew.

Andy Meckel followed Mooney in the victor's scoring parade with four points while Jim Ward added a fieldgoal.

Sean Cassidy, Chris Lowe and Tim Douglas were defensive standouts for BU.

Tom Ring produced the lone St. Augustine's C bucket in the second period, while Jeff Durso, Dennis Grogan and Dennis Hamel also played well.

St. Robert's F, 23-10

Behind 6-5 at halftime, St. Robert's F exploded to outscore Christ B 18-4 in the final two periods.

Mark Shwetz scored all of his game-high 10 points in the fourth quarter, Kevin Murphy chipped in 6 points, Mark Green 3 and solo buckets were netted by guards Stephen Spinelli and Billy Tobin.

Shaleen Cassily, Tim Parker and Jacqueline Kupa were other standouts for the St. Robert's team comprised mostly of players from last year's junior division runners-up.

Bob Nash and Kaios Ryan led the counterattack for Christ B with four points apiece, while Fred Newcombe delivered two points.

Ken Gable, Matt Kelly, James Robinson and Steve Mollineaux also played well for Christ Church.

South A, 40-28

South A bolted to a 18-4 first quarter lead over St. Robert C and then the rivals played almost even the rest of the way.

Chris Eggert led all scorers with 18 points, including 14 in the first quarter, Steve Napolitano added 9, Jim Hendry 5,

A.J. Boutin 4, Steve Flanders 2 and Dana Orlando 2.

Bill Korohmas and Leo Sorrie were other standouts for South.

Scott Clemente paced St. Robert's C with 12 points, Patrick Hayes chipped in 8, Mike Hein and Tim Martin 4 apiece, while Chris Jarek, Derek Weitz and Mike Ferrantino also played well.

St. Robert's E, 23-5

Six different players contributed points as St. Robert's E opened impressively against South B.

Matt Perry, a 10-year-old guard from last year's St. Robert's undefeated junior division championship team, led all scorers with 13 points, including nine in the first half, and solo buckets were netted by Dan French, Martine Kelley, Dan Moynihan, Mike Cincotta and Chris Landers.

Eric Cincotta and Jonathan Merenda contributed fine floor games for the West Andover team.

Billy Batchelder guided the South B offense with three points, while A.J. Boucher stuffed a third-quarter basket.

Defensive stalwarts for South included Bryan Boucher, Kyle Harris, Erik Tupper and Jonathan Usher.

West Parish B, 23-13

West Parish B and St. Augustine's D battled back and forth for three quarters, but the victors finally broke things open in the last period with a 6-0 run to seal the win.

Scott Livermore led the victors with 8 points, John Hess added 5, Adam Guild and Fred Hohn delivered 4 points apiece, and Tricia Doyle pocketed a fourth-quarter bucket.

Paul Lembo and Jim LeCreta powered the St. A's offense with 4 points apiece, Chris Allard flipped in 3, and Kevin O'Handley notched a third-quarter basket.

Ballardvale B, 22-21

Devon Arsenault tossed in six clutch last quarter points to boost Ballardvale B to its taut one point decision over tough-luck St. Robert's D.

St. Robert's led 7-6 after one period and 9-8 at halftime, but BV tied it at 14-14 after three quarters and with Arsenault leading the way, outscored St. Robert's 8-7 in the final stanza to pull out the victory.

Arsenault finished with 9 points, Jason Blandini added 5, Bobby Nutter 4, Alan Hanley 2 and Steve Hanley 2.

Mike Troy, John Pironi and Mike Kalil were other BU stalwarts.

Ed Sheehan emerged as game-high scorer for St. Robert's D with 11 points, John Mattola and Marc Selvitelli scored four markers each, while Paul Salafia and Brett Hammond swished free throws.

Also playing well for St. R's were Matt Jacques, Scott Friesse, George Willard, Steven Knight and Eric Hammond.

Ski Programs

The Department of Community Services will offer four ski programs for Andover residents.

A Crotched Mountain day trip is planned for Dec. 24. Three additional trips are scheduled in January, February and March.

A five-week, after-school ski program for students in grades 3-6 and 7-9 will be held at Bradford Ski Area.

A junior high Sugarloaf weekend ski trip is scheduled for Feb. 11-13.

A cross country ski program will include three dates with each lesson consisting of one hour of instruction and one hour of free skiing.

Registration for these programs is being accepted at the DCS office.

Sr. Church League

Other St. Augustine's standouts were Chris Boyle, Drew Dunn, Peter Zompa, Shawn Cummings and Tom O'Day.

Christ Church, 42-33

Glen Livermore poured through 23 points to power Christ Church past St. Robert's C, as the winners grabbed a 9-6 first period lead and built it to 31-23 after three quarters enroute to the victory.

Livermore collected 16 of his points in the second half, and he was well supported by double digit scorer Kevin Bardsley with 12 points.

Andy Frost pumped through six points, Bob Beanland swished a fourth quarter free throw and other C-C standouts were Chris Scanlon and Brad Wright.

John Williams and Mike Klinger powered St. Robert's C with 12 and 11 points, respectively, Billy Dutton delivered 6 fourth-period points and solo baskets were notched by John Slavin and Scott Plamondon.

Mike French and Rajiv Sheel also played solid floor games for St. Robert's C.

St. Augustine's B, 38-12

After falling behind 8-6 in the opening period, St. Augustine's B proceeded to out-score Ballardvale United 26-2 over the middle two quarters enroute to its lopsided decision.

Eight players contributed to the winners' offense, led by twin digit performers Rich Burke and Tom Finneran with 10 points apiece.

Matt Aumais chipped in 5 points, Dave Argiropoulos 4, Andy Thompson 3 and single fieldgoals were produced by Matt Burke, Tim Scanlon and Dan Beckerman.

Russell Lowe paced Ballardvale with 6 points, Scott Jangro netted 4 and Jeff Znamerowski tossed through a first-period bucket.

Also playing well for BU were Andy Cornell, John McIntyre, Sharon Worcester and Brian Worcester.

St. Robert's B, 40-37.

This one was a barnburner from start to finish, as St. Robert's B held slim leads of 8-7, 16-15 and 27-23 at the first three checkpoints.

The foul line eventually made the difference in the contest, as the winners converted 12-of-27 charities to just 5-of-14 for Temple. Temple held a 16-14 advantage in fieldgoals.

Kevin Byrne emerged as high scorer for St. Robert's B with 13 points, while Chris Concemi added 10 points, Bob Dziadosz 8 points, Chris Arserio 6, Ricky Lafond 2 and Jerry Hand a free throw.

Stu Leinson tossed through nine points for Temple, Erik Frank contributed 8, Geoff Bolan 7, Eric Shanker 5, Ron Rosenberg 4, Wayne Altman a fieldgoal and Myles Greenberg two free throws.

Also playing well for Temple were Steve Weiner, Larry Chapper and Eric Bucholz.

Ski Trip

The camping services branch of the Greater Lawrence YMCA is offering a ski trip to Attitash Mountain in Bartlett, N.H., on Thursday, Dec. 30. The trip will leave from the Andover/North Andover YMCA promptly at 6 a.m. and return at approximately 6:15 p.m. The program is designed for youth, ages 12-16, members and non-members and includes one all-day lift ticket, supervision and transportation. Ski lessons can be available upon request for an

Jr. Church League

South 15 - St. Robert's B 5

South led 8-2 at the midway point. St. Robert's held them scoreless in the third quarter and narrowed the lead to 8-5, however, South swished in seven more points in the final quarter to win a 15-5 victory.

David Corbett led the scoring for South with 6 points, Matt Orlando contributed 5 in the pivotal final quarter and Dennis Aikman added 4.

Greg Masse and Chris Fletcher each contributed a bucket for St. Robert's and William Sullivan made a charity shot count.

Players turning in fine performances were Geoff Schaake, Todd Gray and Justin Lattanzio for South, as well as Matt Reghitto, Peter Landry and Chris Dziadosz for St. Robert's.

West Parish 21 - Christ 2

West Parish won a 21-2 victory over a less experienced Christ Church team. Several players contributed to the final score; David Blank led with 6 points, Mike D'Angelo chipped in 4, Craig DerAnanian added 3, and Greg Poor, Keith Martin, Ken Harvey and Jamie D'Angelo each tossed in a solo.

Steve Corbett swished in the two points for Christ Church.

Players turning in fine performances were David Livingston and Mark Grillo for West Parish, as well as Nicole Angelos, Ryan Abernathy and Justin Townsend for Christ Church.

St. Augustine's C 19

Ballardvale 13

Ballardvale, playing catch-up, rallied in the third quarter, pumping in seven points to narrow St. Augustine's lead to 16-13. St. Augustine's held them scoreless in the final quarter, however, and added three to their total, to win a 19-13 victory.

Jeff Hamilton led the scoring for St. Augustine's with 7 points, Sean Ryan was a close second with 6, Paul Vallee chipped in 4, and Cathy Daly tossed in a basket.

Jodie Jangro was high corer for Ballardvale with 8 points, Phillip Meckel swished in 3 and Kim Nutter added a solo.

Players turning in fine performances were Julie Arsenault, Jason Milovanovic and Adam Pedicino for St. Augustine's, as well as Gary Znamierowski, Nicole Ricci and Danny Mooney for Ballardvale United.

St. Robert's A 19

St. Augustine's A 8

St. Robert's held a 6-4 edge at the halfway point. They held St. Augustine's scoreless in the third while adding five to their total and swished in eight more to win a 19-8 victory.

Andrew Bedell led the scoring for St. Robert's with 7 points and Jeremy Gibson and Jeff Foley were a close second with 6 points apiece.

Brian Novelline was high scorer for St. Augustine's with 6 points and Jamey Lionette added 3.

Players turning in fine performances were Ian Timmons, Todd Green and Grace Perry for St. Robert's, as well as Garrett Ferris, Andrew Paradis and Brian Landry for St. Augustine's.

Hoopsters

at the Dunn Gymnasium on Monday, Dec. 27, while round two is at Lawrence Central on Tuesday, Dec. 28, and the finals at the North Andover High fieldhouse on Thursday, Dec. 30.

Joining Andover in this year's tourney field are North Andover, Salem, N.H., Greater-Lawrence, Haverhill, Central, Lawrence and Masconomet Regional.

The Merrimack Valley Conference takes on its third new look in three years with a large school division and a small school division this season.

Andover is in the large school section along with Chelmsford, Lowell High, Haverhill, Central and Greater-Lawrence Regional.

The small school division boasts Billerica, Methuen, Tewksbury, Wilmington, Dracut and Lawrence High.

"Everyone is saying Central is the power on our side," stated Hixon. "There is no question they're good, with Leo Parent (6'6" center), Bobby Licare (point-guard), Dave Fazio and Ken Muse (6'9"), but I don't discount Haverhill or Greater-Lawrence.

"Both those teams have everyone back from last year, and I watched them play during the summer and they both looked good.

"Lowell will be strong as well and there is no telling what Chelmsford will come up with. I see one big dogfight in our division," concluded Hixon.

The Golden Warriors will play all teams in their division twice, and teams in the small school division (Billerica should dominate) once each.

Holiday Production

Escape the hum-drum life and join Milo on his surprise journey into fantastic lands when he drives his toy car through "The Phantom Tollboot," Boston Children's Theatre's holiday production, playing Saturday, Dec. 18, Sunday, Dec. 19, and during school Christmas vacation week Dec. 27-30, at New England Life Hall, Copley Square, Boston, at 2 p.m.

In the great tradition of Oz, Wonderland and Narnia, the Land of Wisdom is full of strange, fantastical characters such as King Azaz, King of Letters, tock, the Watchdog and the Terrible Trivium.

The conference schedule begins Tuesday, Jan. 4, with Andover hosting Lowell High in an early-season (very early) showdown.

According to Figgie International's Rawlings Golf, a player can use up to 14 clubs, usually four woods, nine irons and a putter.

In 1900, one-third of all the automobiles in Chicago, New York and Boston were battery-operated.

Teen Group

The Somers Trust, Psychological Associates, 11 Chestnut St., Andover, will form a group for teens to meet weekly beginning in late December. The group format has been found to be one of the most effective means of helping adolescents deal and cope effectively with the pressures and difficulties involved in being a teenager in today's world.

Lonnie Stowe and Robert Stern, experienced adolescent therapists, will lead the group. Insurance and other third party payments will be accepted. For more information, contact The Somers Trust, Psychological Associates.

Early Christians performed a "ring dance" around a Nativity scene to tunes called "Wiegeli-eder," in German; "noel" in French and "carols" in English. In time, words were added to tell a story, and carol singing has become one of the best-loved Christmas traditions.

Dogs

questionably" the Doberman and German Shepherd belonging to the O'Connells.

But O'Connell, who did not attend the hearing last week, said there was no evidence that his Doberman attacked the beagle. "I'm not sure whether my dog was involved one way or the other," he said. He added that last weekend neighbors mistook a Doberman running around the neighborhood for his dog, while his dog was in a kennel out of town.

Responding to points made during last week's hearing, O'Connell told the board his dogs have had rabies shots and are "in the main" kept leashed.

And he read a series of letters from neighbors maintaining that the dogs are not dangerous to neighborhood children. "I am not a man who would allow my dogs to be a menace," he told the board.

O'Connell's son Barry added that the dogs "do not run rampant through the streets. They do not roam. And they do not go around attacking other dogs."

Dog Officer Scott McClory said O'Connell has been cited four times for not licensing the dogs and eight times for leash law violations during the past 14 months, and now has unpaid fines totalling $290.

McClory said a court hearing on six of those counts was scheduled for today. The town has not taken O'Connell to court before now, he told the board.

O'Connell explained that he has not paid the fines because, according to the U.S. Constitution, the government can accept payment of debts only in gold and silver. "I have my opinions and my beliefs," he said.

Warren Kappeler of Alden Road told the selectmen the O'Connell's Doberman attacked his dachshund on his property more than a year ago. Barry O'Connell was working for Kappeler's neighbor at the time and had brought his dogs with him, Kappeler said. He said his dog survived the attack after a stay at the animal hospital.

Barry O'Connell said Kappeler's dog bit him first, and his dog reacted by biting the dachshund.

One resident not involved with the O'Connell case urged the selectmen to help prevent future incidents by imposing "stiff fines" for all leash law violations.

"This is definitely something that has to be dealt with," Irving Willis of Porter Road told the board, explaining that large dogs recently attacked his poodles on his property. "We have a problem, and it has to be solved."

Reuse

Mahony reported that the state legislature has approved a special bill allowing the town to sell the wings to a developer who would renovate them to the town's specifications, lease the wings for 15 years, and then buy them back. That plan was approved by special town meeting last month.

However, the governor had not yet signed the legislation, the manager said.

Town officials believe the sell-and-repurchase plan will save Andover at least a half-million and up to $1 million, because a private developer can take advantage of tax credits not available to the town.

No longer needed as part of the newly-renovated Doherty Junior High, the two wings will house all town and school department administrative offices when the renovations are accomplished.

For centuries, small Spanish settlements in the American southwest have celebrated Christmas Eve with torchlight or candlelight processions. Paths to hillside shrines and churches are lit with pinon wood bonfires known as shepherd's fires or "luminarias."

Favor Administrative Guidelines Instead Of A Fundraising Policy

By John P. Sawyer

The school committee Tuesday night balked at setting a new policy for student fundraising activities, maintaining suggested guidelines could be handled administratively.

Chairman Richard Neal said the time was not "appropriate" for the committee to act on a fundraising policy. He said the new budget process is about to begin, and if budget needs are to be fulfilled, the committee has in some ways encouraged fundraisers.

He added that many fundraisers have already been held, and he did not want other groups with planned events to lose out.

Earlier in the month, Schools Superintendent Dr. Kenneth Seifert told the committee, "We have fundraisers all over the place," and he said principals have suggested student fundraising has gotten out of hand.

Neal said Tuesday he was concerned about the number of school fundraisers, but the current policy should remain. Suggestions, however, could be made to school principals when they make decisions on fundraiser guidelines, according to Neal.

The chairman explained that some of the superintendent's suggested guidelines, which Seifert submitted at the last meeting, might be appropriate. Neal mentioned, for example, the idea that those raising money should exhaust the resources of the school population first.

Schoolman Donald Robb maintained the committee should wait on making policy changes regarding fundraisers. He said PTO's should be allowed to take part in the suggestion process.

Michael Giammusso said Seifert's guidelines, except for the suggestion that the school committee must approve fundraisers outside of the schools, were common sense things that could be handled administratively, until the committee receives further input.

The superintendent's suggested guidelines included other stipulations that:

FUNDRAISING activity should be mutually beneficial to those raising the funds and those donating money.

PREFERRED are fundraising activities which provide a service, such as shoveling snow, for a fee.

NOTICE be sent to the specific community that will be approached by the fundraiser.

raiser.

ACTIVITIES which have related learning experience for students are preferred.

A LOG should be kept to keep track of all fundraising activity.

FINANCIAL ACCOUNTING must be maintained.

Athletic Funds Get A Boost

The high school athletic department Tuesday night was the recipient of a $1000 check from the Ben Ardizzone Memorial Fund, Ed Henley, president.

The money is given in memory of Ben Ardizzone, an Andover High graduate and former captain of the gymnastics team, who captained the Springfield College team and competed nationally. He taught physical education in California, and later returned to Andover and was employed by a gymnastics equipment supplier.

He donated much time to helping Andover students with their gymnastics skills. He died in a boating accident in California in 1979.

Because he impacted heavily on those whose lives he touched, and to keep his memory alive, the Memorial Fund was established.

Planners Deny Petition

An Andover couple have lost their chance to petition the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance to build a home on an Abbot Street lot lacking the required minimum frontage — a variance the ZBA denied them five months ago.

Under state law, Ralph and Susan Luby of Wintergreen Circle needed a four-fifths vote of the Planning Board to allow them to petition the zoning board again within two years of the ZBA's unfavorable decision.

But Tuesday night, three members of the planning board voted to deny the Lubys' request for a second chance before the zoning board. Planners Andrew Girdwood and Russ Moran were absent, but board members pointed out that there would not be four affirmative votes in any case.

The Lubys originally brought their petition before the zoning board in June; it was denied in a decision dated July 2.

State law would allow the petitioners to take their case before the zoning board again only if the planning board found that there have been "specific and material changes in the conditions upon which the previous unfavorable action was based."

During a public hearing before the planners earlier this month, Atty. Philip Sullivan, representing the Lubys, argued that there had been such changes. But in a letter to the planners this week, Special Counsel Thomas Arnold disagreed.

Arnold wrote that the Lubys had not demonstrated changes in the "design, plan, or conditions surrounding the parcel ... Petitioners have not presented a change in the conditions which existed on July 2, 1982. They just want a second chance ..."

The planners indicated that they were basing their vote on Arnold's opinion. Chairman Jerry Greer said he would have to vote against the Lubys' request unless they could "convince Tom Arnold to change his mind."

Margaret Bradshaw said she was "sympathetic with the people who are appealing, but the conditions are not new — they existed prior to the Board of Appeals decision."

The Lubys had proposed building a home on a seven-acre parcel of land that has 24 feet of frontage on Abbot Street. Zoning laws require 150 feet of frontage in the residential district.

The land belongs to Phillips Academy, which has no current use for the property. Although the academy was a co-petitioner in the request before the planners, it did not participate in the ZBA hearing last summer.

The petition was denied last summer, according to the ZBA decision, because the Lubys had not provided "sufficient evidence that there was a necessity for granting a variance."

Sullivan said new aspects of the case were the ability to demonstrate hardship; a Conservation Commission order concerning a pond located on the property that was not in effect last July; and engineering data on the driveway that would exit from the property onto Abbot Street.

The law requires petitioners to prove that without a zoning variance they face substantial hardship, financial or otherwise, relating to specific features of their land. And they must show that a variance would not be detrimental to the public good, nor derogate the purpose of the zoning bylaw.

Directors Sought

The Actorsngers of Nashua, N.H., who has a 27-year history of producing two major musicals each year, is conducting a search for directors for their Spring production of "Funny Girl."

Interviews for dramatics directors, musical directors and choreographers will be held Tuesday evening, Jan. 4, at Actorsngers Hall, 219 Lake St., Nashua.

All productions are held at the Elm Street Junior High School Auditorium for three performances. Production dates are scheduled for May 20, 21 and 22. Cast auditions will be held in March.

Holiday Open House at the Historical Society

The Andover Historical Society held its annual Christmas Open House last week at the Amos Blanchard House. While guests sipped punch and ate holiday cookies, they browsed through the new exhibit "Music Fills the House" which showcased the various types of popular 19th-century music. Photos clockwise from upper left: Board of Directors member Barbara Roulston pours some punch for Phil Ryder, Treasurer of the Historical Society; Louise Van Everen, School St., examines part of the exhibit; Enjoying the festive celebration are Dorothy Partridge, Board of Directors member Bernice Haggerty, and Evelyn Sullivan; Board of Directors member Susan Harris reads a diary in the exhibit.

Convention

More than 400 building materials firms from throughout the Northeast will gather Jan. 7-9 in Hynes Auditorium for the Northeastern Retail Lumbermens Association's 89th annual Convention and America/East Building Materials Exposition.

This year's theme is "Partners in Progress—Energize—Learn and Earn in '83." Besides the overall economic future on 1983, business sessions will cover topics from asset management to energy to computers.

Charles Kuralt, noted TV commentator, Howard J. Ruff, economist and television personality, and futurist Marvin J. Cetron will be among the speakers.

To All Concerned:

Congress' attempt to stimulate investment provides an exceptional incentive for car buyers. The new tax law allows a deduction on your 1982 tax return of 25% of the cost of a business car bought any time during 1982. You can deduct another 38% of the cost in 1983, and the remaining 37% in 1984.

Assume for example, that in December of 1982, you buy a new SAAB TURBO for $16,800 and continue to use the car in your business as a salesperson, self-employed, etc. for five years. When you file your 1982 tax return, you can take a depreciation deduction of $4,200 as well as an investment tax credit of $1,800 (6% of $16,800 as compared to the 3-1/3% that was previously allowed).

Once again, you may take the entire 25% depreciation and the 6% investment tax credit for 1982 as long as the car is purchased before January 1, 1983.

To obtain these tax benefits, businesses are required to retain ownership in the vehicles for a minimum amount of time. Refer to tax counsel for advice concerning recapture rules under the 1982 Tax Laws.

The 1982 Tax Laws offer benefits that make this an excellent time to purchase new vehicles. And in addition to receiving these significant tax benefits, you also have the privilege of driving one of the world's finest and safest motor vehicles.

We would welcome the opportunity to meet with you to show you our fine products and to discuss purchase arrangements. Prices start at $10,750. Come in soon and let us show you our superb inventory of the world's finest and safest automobiles.

Sincerely yours, pumping station and other customers in the area — but the trees stand in the way.

Mahony said he asked the company to study the feasibility of three other approaches: running the line along Tantallon Road across the river; running it along York Street; and running it underground. The solution will depend on the cost, he explained.

During a public hearing last month, Riverina Road neighbors objected to cutting down the trees because it would change the appearance of the Shawsheen Village Street. Most of the trees are 60 years old, and some are as large as 24 inches around. Town officials say the American Woolen Company probably planted most of them when Shawsheen Village was created as a company community.

But Mahony said this week the trees may have to come down "as a last resort." He suggested that they could be replaced with smaller "flowering trees" that would not interfere with the new power line.

"These trees are not in the best condition," the manager added. "They are not young trees."

The final decision to cut down the trees, however, rests with the selectmen; they will wait for the manager's final report. And although they offered little comment Monday, the board hinted at some reluctance to part with the Shawsheen trees.

"I hate to lose trees down there," Selectman Donn Byrne said, and Gerald Silverman agreed.

counts and the major factors that contribute to those accounts;

PROGRAM BUDGETS based on innovative solutions for providing delivery of services.

Robb urged the school committee not to underfund programs — in other words, not to allocate a lesser amount of money and expect to get the same services. For example, he said if a program costs $200,000 and only $170,000 can be provided, then the question becomes, how do we get the program to run for $170,000?

Schoolman Michael Giammusso noted the approach made sense. Susan Poore said she agreed with the idea of totally funding items. She explained that school staff won't be asked to do a $200,000 job for $170,000. The school committee needs the help of the staff to come up with innovative ideas, according to Poore.

"Now's the time" to come forward, Neal added.

When the budget process begins, the school committee will start with the least flexible accounts, then work its way to expense accounts, and finally staff salaries.

Sutton Travel Service—Cruise Specialists On The North Shore

December has approached us, and now is the time to plan for your winter vacation. Call Sutton Travel Service, Merrimack Valley's most experienced travel agency with offices in Andover and Lawrence. Their experienced travel consultants will be more than happy to help you find the trip that's best suited for you—whether it be a cruise in the Caribbean or a week at Disney World.

If you are considering visiting Epcot at Disney World this winter, you should make your plans now. Vacation week in February is quickly becoming booked, as will April's vacation week. The travel consultants at Sutton Travel Service will work with you to plan a trip that will meet your highest expectations.

If you are considering a cruise for your honeymoon or vacation, visit Sutton Travel Service, the cruise specialists on the north shore. You will be advised on the various lines of ships as well as the different tours available.

Sutton Travel Service's Andover office is located at 1 Lowell St., where you will be assisted by Shirley MacGill or Pamela Collins. Their Lawrence office is at 21 Lawrence St., where owner Betty Couillard will assist you, as will Roberta Elliott, Bobbie Pitts, Ruth Faro, Dottie McCormick, Fred Lais, Jackie Ulbin, Ann Giles or office manager, Margaret O'Neill.

Both of Sutton Travel Service's offices are fully computerized, allowing for faster more accurate service and reservations. Call or stop by soon—the Andover office is open Monday through Friday 9-5:30, tel. 475-4251. Lawrence is open Monday through Friday 8:30-5:30, and Saturday 8:30-12, tel. 686-9521.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by 44 Lowell Junction Road Realty, Inc. to C N B Equity Corporation dated January 17, 1980, recorded with Essex County (Northern District) Deeds Book 1416, Page 120, and with Essex County (Northern District) Registry of the Land Court as Document No. 29705, and assigned to Claire H. Savio, Trustee of G S F Realty Trust, under Declaration of Trust dated August 4, 1982, recorded with said Deeds Book 1598, Page 76, and filed with said Registry District as Document No. 33302. Said Assignment dated August 5, 1982, recorded with said Deeds Book 1598, Page 84, and filed with said Registry District as Document No. 33305, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction at 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, January 5, 1983, on the premises below described being known as 44 Lowell Junction Road, Andover, and being described as follows, to wit:

The land at 44 Lowell Junction Road, Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, bounded and described as follows:

NORTHERLY by the southerly line of Lowell Junction Road, 40 feet;

NORTHEASTERLY by land now or formerly of the Boston and Maine Railroad, 415.05 feet;

SOUTHEASTERLY 74.41 feet, and

NORTHEASTERLY 127.01 feet by land now or formerly of Robert J. Sax et al;

EASTERLY 276.64 feet;

NORTHERLY 12 feet, and

EASTERLY 287.02 feet by said Boston and Maine Railroad land;

SOUTHWESTERLY 505.95 feet, and

SOUTHEASTERLY 82.81 feet by land now or formerly of Arthur E. DeMontigny;

SOUTHWESTERLY by lands now or formerly of Brony S. Shea and of Roman Demboski et al, 489.69 feet;

NORTHWESTERLY by land now or formerly of Wilhelmina Switkowski, 341 feet, and

NORTHEASTERLY 180 feet, and

NORTHWESTERLY 424.63 feet by land now or formerly of Robert J. Sax et al.

All of said boundaries are determined by the Court to be located as shown on Plan No. 30560A, drawn by S. Albert Kaufman, Surveyor, dated December 14, 1960, all as modified and approved by the Court, filed in the Land Registration Office, a copy of a portion of which is filed with Certificate of Title No. 5288, Book 35, page 553.

Also another parcel of land between the first parcel above described and the Boston and Maine Railroad, designated "Robert J. Sax et al." on said Land Court Plan No. 30560A and bounded and described according to that plan as follows:

EASTERLY by said Railroad;

SOUTHWESTERLY by the registered land, 127.01 feet;

NORTHWESTERLY by the registered land, 74.41 feet.

The above premises will be sold subject to the local zoning laws or regulations, to any tenancies or occupancies which may be existing, to rights, easements, reservations, agreements and restrictions of record, if any, insofar as now in force and applicable, to all unpaid taxes, including taxes assessed for the current year, tax titles and tax liens and other municipal assessments and water charges, if any.

Fifty Thousand ($50,000.00), Dollars will be required to be paid in cash or by certified check by the purchaser at the time and place of sale as earnest money. The balance is to be paid in cash or by certified check within ten (10) days thereafter to be deposited in escrow with the office of Carvin &

Stein at 40 Adams Street, Braintree, Massachusetts, pending approval of said sale by the Land Court, unless some other place and time shall be mutually agreed upon. Other terms, if any, to be announced at the sale.

HP Gives Checks To Employees

More than 690 employees of Hewlett-Packard Company's Andover Division received cash profit-sharing check totaling $622 thousand.

Companywide, HP distributed $54.9 million to approximately 60,800 eligible employees.

Employees who are eligible to participate after six months with the company receive two profit-sharing checks each—one at the midpoint and one at the end of the company's fiscal year, which ended Oct. 31. HP's fiscal 1982 sales were $4.25 billion, up 19 percent from the year before. Net earnings were $383 million, up 25 percent.

HP began its cash profit-sharing program in 1939, the company's first year of operation. The program stems from the company's belief that employees should share in the success which their efforts make possible.

Hewlett-Packard designs and manufactures computers, electronic test and measurement instruments, handheld calculators, electronic components, medical electronic equipment and instrumentation from chemical analysis.

Sleepover

The Lawrence YMCA will hold its annual New Year's Eve Sleepover for youth ages 6-13 years of age. Members and non-members are welcome to enjoy this night of swimming, movies, gym activities and games. The highlight of the evening will be the midnight celebration complete with hats, noise makers and streamers. Children may be dropped at the YMCA at 5 p.m. Friday, Dec. 31, and be picked up at 9 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 1. For further information, contact Rob Reeves at the Lawrence YMCA.

An extraordinary offer to a Sales Manager who would like to triple your income in a few years. (Insurance, mutual funds or related successful management experience.)

Does your record prove your ability in the recruiting, training, leadership, inspiration and direction of a sales staff?

You may be the exceptional Sales Manager we seek for this expanded program.

If you succeed as we expect, your earnings will double, even triple.

Conceivably you are a life insurance manager—or in some similar role—doing the same work, but without the potential this opening offers.

If you are thinking ahead a few years, and know your record and ability rate "excellent," look into this opportunity. Call or write:

HOMEOWNER BONUS

When you increase the insurance limits on your home, the dollar amount of financial protection is automatically increased on the family's personal property, as well as on the swelling structure.

Normally, under the homeowners package policy, the limits on personal property are set at 50 percent of the limits on the swelling. For example, if your home is insured for $20,000, you have $10,000 worth of insurance on the furnishings, clothing and other personal property. If you increase the limits on the swelling to $40,000, limits on the personal property automatically jump to $20,000.

In the event a loss occurs, you would be asked to provide the insurance company representative with an inventory of the damaged or destroyed items and their value, so that your claim can be processed without delay. If the property is lost through burglary or theft, the inventory will be helpful to police as well as to the insurer.

Family Night Success Indicates A New Tradition For Andover

It looks like "Family Night" may become a Christmas tradition in Andover.

Although attendance at last Friday's event was slightly off, perhaps due to the cold weather and slick, snowy roads, the second annual "Family Night" was a big success, according to Richard Chapel, chairman of the Andover Center Association.

He said merchants were due to discuss how things went at a meeting Wednesday morning. "Family Night" will likely continue in future years, according to Chapel, who said he would like to include more merchants in the event.

Last Friday, traffic was blocked off in downtown Andover from Elm Square to Punchard Avenue, allowing shoppers to roam the area freely. A dozen choral groups, as well as the high school band, provided music. Most stores offered their patrons punch and cookies or egg nog.

Business was brisk in downtown shops, yet the night was successful in another way, too, according to Chapel.

"It ('Family Night') is designed as a genuine thankyou and a good way to start off the Christmas season," he said, noting many people stopped by the stores just to say hello.

Chapel explained that downtown Andover is a specialty shopping area — different than malls.

"It's a different place," he said. "It's an attractive place."

And with Christmas lights and wreaths adorning Main Street, the holiday spirit is in the air.

Budget

mainstreamed here, but that isn't happening.

Reallocation of money will be necessary to meet the projected deficit, according to the business manager.

The "tuition-out" account had been allocated about $216,500, he said, but if all students remain in outside placements, which is expected, the school department will spend about $286,500.
